

POWER STATION CLUB MUST CLOSE

BY NATHAN BRIANT

RUGELEY Power Station's planned demolition next year will also force the permanent closure of a leisure complex.

Rugeley Power Station Club has 1,800 members and boasts an 18-hole golf course, a social club, an angling club with access to the River Trent and a model engineering society.

The committee responsible for the club said the power station's owner, French multinational electric utility company Engie, has told them that they will need to leave the site by March 31, 2017. The club, which was established in 1971, is situated in Power Station Road, near the closed power station.

A club member, who does not wish to be named, said: "At the moment all these things are set in stone. The whole station is split in two. Half of the area is Cannock, the other Lichfield. Engie is going to demolish the station."

"My biggest gripe is that there are lots of new houses around Rugeley – but what about the recreation facilities?"

He said membership was now dwindling and people were realising that all their work and improvements carried out at the club could be redundant in just a few months' time. He added: "At the moment it's going down because the enthusiasm's going out of it."

The company revealed in February that the power station was closing in the summer of this year due to the expected loss of 150 jobs.

Councillor Darren Foley, who represents the Brevort and Ravenhill ward on Cannock Chase Council, said: "At a time when we are recognising the important role that taking part in sport and leisure activities can have, not only on physical but also mental health, it is very disappointing to hear that the area will be losing these fantastic facilities."

An Engie spokesman said: "The station is currently being decommissioned and when this is complete, demolition will commence, anticipated to be in the first half of 2017."

"The site has only one permanent road access point and, given that the sports and social club is located at the centre of the site, it was identified at an early stage that the safe demolition of the power station could not be achieved whilst the club remained active."

"This meant that unfortunately Engie had to give notice to the club to close by the end of March 2017, consistent with the start of demolition. We informed the local authorities of the situation some months ago."

Star joins protest against rabbit farm

Fran Healy – protest

FRAN Healy, lead singer of the pop group Travis, has added his name to a storm of protest against plans for a commercial rabbit farm in Staffordshire.

The Stafford-born musician joins more than 17,000 people who have signed a petition calling on Stafford Borough Council to reject the planning application.

Protesters say the facility, which would be built on agricultural land in Radmore Lane, Gnosall, is 'unethical' and would keep rabbits in tiny cages.

The planning application, which has been submitted to the borough council for consideration, is to build an 'intensive rabbit farm'.

Healy signed the petition endorsing a letter from the People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) Foundation, which believes that the rabbits would be 'condemned to lives of misery'.

Romanian food wholesaler POE Ltd, which has lodged the application, said the plan is in the early stages and it would consider the welfare of animals, should it be given the go-ahead.

Speaking after the application was lodged, Alina Muntean, of POE Ltd, said: "It's just planning permission for which we have applied for. So nothing has been built yet.

"I received an email from the animal rights group with this concern regarding animal welfare but as of yet we haven't considered what the animals will be doing, whether they'll be free and jumping around or anything.

"I have nothing to say in this phase because nothing is there yet.

"We don't have anything. It is just an empty field. This could take years because we are expecting the response in August and then all the access and everything will take time and money."

Work on outlet village set to start this year

PLANS for the multi-million pound Mill Green designer outlet village in Cannock have taken a step forward.

Cannock Chase Council has struck a deal with the developers U+I and Rioja Developments over a Section 106 agreement and has now passed the plans for the site next to Mill Green Nature Reserve off Eastern Way.

This means that, providing there is no legal challenge, work will begin later this year.

The £115 million pound development, which is pencilled in to open in early 2018, is set to feature 130 shops – including Ralph Lauren and Superdry – plus restaurants, a large children's play area, a visitor centre and a multi-storey car park with 2,000 spaces for shoppers.

Although the amount of Section 106 money is undisclosed, it is understood that it will be put towards improving roads around the proposed site, including a new dual carriageway and crossing along Eastern Way.

Option

Outline plans for the site were originally submitted back in February last year.

Cannock Chase Council then approved the plans in November but due to the size of the development had to refer it to central government.

Greg Clark MP, the then Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government, had the option to have the decision called in, meaning that he would have the final say, but he declined and allowed the council to make the relevant decisions.

U+I and Rioja Developments then submitted the full application earlier this year and after some haggling over a Section 106 agreement – an agreement struck between councils and developers to lessen the impact of larger planning applications – the plans were approved.

The 26,505 square metre outlet village is set to create 1,200 jobs and will provide a 'real boost to the local economy', according to Rioja Developments.

Cannock Chase Council is hoping the development will help to make up for the loss of business rates following the closure of Rugeley Power Station.

Morgan's pet tale is a winner

Morgan Brown with, left, Joe Whitaker and Ant Clarkson of Pets at Home

A CANNOCK schoolgirl has been chosen as a winner of this summer's Pets at Home My Pet Pals competition.

Entrants were asked to either draw or write a story about what they think their pet gets up to when they are not around.

Morgan Brown, aged 14, wrote a story about her Cavalier King Charles Spaniel, Cleo, having a top secret job as a 'star maker', who 'hunts for sparkly things and the stores them in a laboratory under the stairs'. Morgan, who goes to Staffordshire University Academy in Hednesford, and her mother were invited to the Cannock Orbital store to celebrate, taking part in a photo shoot and receiving a hamper of pet treats and goodies.

Craig Smith, store manager at Pets at Home Cannock Orbital, said: "We were delighted to be able to invite Morgan and her mum Lucy to our store and present them with their award and hamper.

"We had some great competition entries but Morgan's entry really stood out and simply captured our imagination." Morgan's mother, Lucy Horne, said: "Cleo and Morgan are the best of friends, and Morgan takes such good care of her. They are always together and having a great time."

The competition launched the My Pet Pals Summer Activity Club, a series of free interactive pet workshops which will educate the next generation of pet owners on how to care for pets responsibly.

Police link burglaries committed in one night

A CAR, hundreds of pounds worth of computer equipment and tobacco were stolen in a string of break-ins in Cannock Chase.

The incidents included one burglary where the occupants were at home at the time.

All of the thefts happened last week between Monday night and the early hours of Tuesday.

At 1.15am on Tuesday a burglar raiding a home in Mill Crescent, Hawks Green, was disturbed by the resident but still managed to get away with a bag containing two laptops.

Meanwhile, a home in Brownhills Road, Norton Canes, was targeted and a quantity of tobacco and rolling papers taken.

Some time overnight a blue Ford Focus was stolen from a garage in Highfield Road, Heath Hayes, and later abandoned in Braemar Road, Norton Canes.

At about 4am in nearby Red Lion Lane, several residents witnessed a man in a baseball cap trying the doors of several vehicles.

In another incident that night a car in Willow Road, Norton Canes, was broken into and a laptop worth £600 was taken.

Staffordshire Police neighbourhood watch officer Ash Connor said: "We are working on the presumption the incidents are all linked.

"The resident who disturbed the intruder was not approached or harmed.

"It seemed to be a coincidence that they woke up at the same time someone had gone through the back door."

Chasewater algae alert now lifted

A DANGEROUS toxin in Chasewater's reservoir is no longer present, experts have announced.

People were told not to go into the water last month in case it contained blue-green algae.

Tests out on behalf of Staffordshire County Council showed there was an outbreak of the algae, which can kill animals and cause humans rashes, diarrhoea, fever and muscle and joint pain, but it is understood it cleared up shortly after warning notices were put up.

Cabinet member Councillor Gill Heath said: "The test results had come back confirming that it was blue and green algae in the water as suspected.

"Thankfully, it has now all disappeared and is back to normal, and we have taken the signs down."

Fun day to feature skittles and croquet

Charities to gain from this year's ale festival

CANNOCK Chase Camra have chosen their nominated charities for this year's beer festival – Cardiac Risk in the Young (CRY) and Max's Mission to Move via Just4Children.

It was decided to support CRY because a barman from Bar 77 in Cannock has been affected, while Just4Children was selected in support of a three-year-old Rugeley boy who was born at 34 weeks weighing 5lb 6oz and has been diagnosed with Quadriplegic Spastic Cerebral Palsy.

Cannock Beer Festival press and publicity officer Chris Southall said money will be raised for both charities through raffles.

Additionally, if anyone attending the festival has beer tokens which they don't use, they can give them to Cannock Camra, who will donate the equivalent amount to the charities.

The festival takes place on September 22, 23 and 24 at the Prince of Wales Theatre in Church Street, Cannock.

There will be 60 ales and 20 ciders on offer along with a Beers of the World bottle bar. Hot and cold food is available.

There will be live entertainment on the Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night, along with Camra merchandise and membership stalls and a tombola.

Admission is £1 for Camra members, £2 for seniors, students and HM Forces and £3 for non-Camra members.

Firm's £500 for outdoor school

A BUILDING firm has given a school project a boost after donating £500 towards an outdoor learning area.

Taylor Wimpey handed the money to Jerome Primary School in Norton Canes for its forest school project.

Headteacher Claire Sarginson said: "The wooded area was not really being used and hadn't been very well looked after over the years so we decided to clean it up and make use of the space.

"The aim of our forest school project is to create a place for all children to enjoy, from nursery age right through to our Year 6 pupils. We want it to be an educational and fun outdoor learning space. When Taylor Wimpey contacted us to offer their help, we told them about a few of our projects and they liked our forest school the most."

Firefighters are called to car blaze

FIREFIGHTERS tackled a car blaze in Rawsley Road, Hednesford.

One crew from Cannock fire station was in attendance from 1.27pm on Tuesday last week. They described the vehicle as 'well alight'.

Pupils rewarded for poster artwork

A winning poster

CHILDREN at Chadsmoor CE (VR) Junior School have received a Good Junior Citizen Award following their participation in a poster competition aimed at highlighting the problem of dog fouling in the area.

The competition was run in conjunction with Community Spirit, a local group established to raise concerns of residents who had also identified dog fouling as an issue.

Dr Tom Preston, chair of Community Spirit, presented the winners with their Good Junior Citizen Certificates. The posters were judged by environmental health officers from Cannock Chase Council who were so impressed with the children's artwork that arrangements were made to add the winning posters to the authority's banners promoting responsible dog ownership throughout the district. The four winners of the competition also received a gift voucher and goody bag for their pictures.

The council is currently inviting nominations from residents for two award schemes – the Junior Good Citizen Award, up to Year 6, and the Environmental Citizen Award, Year 7 and above.

● Parish councils in South Staffordshire are working with South Staffordshire Council in the fight against dog fouling.

Staff at 17 parish councils have been trained in how to apply stencils and put up signs. Between March and June, there were three calls to the district council, compared with 20 in the same period last year.

Parish councils have also reported a drop in calls and visits from local people.

More heroes to be added to memorial

The names of dozens of Second World War heroes will be added to Chadsmoor's war memorial, with a ceremony to honour them organised for next month.

Hundreds of people turned out in April last year for the unveiling of the £12,000 monument. It features a plaque containing 160 names of those from the area who served in the First World War.

Now, following a year's worth of further research and another £5,000 investment, the identities of 40 soldiers who fought in the Second World War have been confirmed.

They will be unveiled on a new plaque at the memorial on September 17 by Major General John Henderson CB (Order of the Bath), in a ceremony which is set to be another memorable occasion for Chadsmoor.

Local historian Paul Bedford, who has helped Chadsmoor Local History Society with research for the project, said: "It will be long overdue recognition for all of the people who sacrificed everything for their local area, as well as their families and their children."

The 40 names will be displayed on the blank side of the monument which sits in Burns Street.

Proud

The history society has also appealed to the public to make them aware of anyone else they feel should be included.

Staffordshire County Councillor Derek Davis, who represents Chadsmoor and has also been involved in the project, said: "We must all justly be proud of those who died and came from the Chadsmoor area, and the completion of this initiative will give residents and relatives a place to remember them."

More than 400 people attended last year's emotional ceremony which saw the unveiling of the memorial, which was dedicated by the Bishop of Wolverhampton the Rt Rev Clive Gregory.

The original project came about after Mr Bedford came across evidence of dozens of soldiers from the area who served in the Great War but were not recognised on any memorial.

While the majority of the 160 names were also contained on memorials in Cannock and Hednesford, around a third were not engraved anywhere in the district.

Anyone wishing to recommend a name to be included on the memorial should contact society chairman Councillor Davis by calling 01543 423148.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

YOU know how it is when you read a court case and think, no, that can't be right. A driver in Norfolk was clocked driving at 154 mph in something called a Seat Leon Cupra. The magistrates ordered him to pay £365 and banned him for 56 days. At first I assumed either the speed or the sentence was wrongly reported. But no, it seems the going rate for driving at 94 mph over the speed limit in Norfolk is a little less than two months off the roads. Police have described the sentence as "disappointing" which demolishes my initial theory that the 21-year-old driver must have been the Chief Constable's lad.

THE Seat Leon Cupra, incidentally, is capable of 155mph. Why is such a car offered for sale in a country where the maximum limit is 70mph? How does a 21-year-old get insurance to drive it?

THIS week saw yet another doomed attempt by the so-called energy watchdog Ofgem to persuade punters to shop around for the best energy deals. Why are we so reluctant? Because we don't like playing damn silly games with strangers. I am convinced that whoever dreamed up the current system of multiple power companies tempting us with money-saving tariffs was inspired by the board game, Snakes and Ladders. You stay with one deal until the price suddenly shoots up. You switch to another and the price slithers down. A few weeks pass and the price goes up again. And with every change you are bombarded with junk mail and have to arrange a new direct debit.

NO, no, Donald. You're supposed to kiss the baby, not chuck it out of the meeting. American politics is founded on babies, motherhood and apple pie. Trump has managed to bad-mouth the first two in a single week. How long before he is overheard muttering: "Goddam apple pie, I hate it."

AND off to Sudeley Castle in the Cotswolds. As at so many attractions, there is a discount for over-60s in the belief that old people who can afford to wander around mediaeval castles are all living in grinding poverty. What happens in practice is that grey-haired folk glide into the car park in their BMWs and Mercs and get £1 knocked off the entry fee while ordinary working couples turn up in battered old people carriers and pay the full whack.

A FRIEND'S new house boasts four lavatories. Three are the modern, eco-friendly, water-saving WCs. The fourth is an old-fashioned low-level job with a cistern connected to the pan by a short pipe. The strange part is that the old-fashioned bog works perfectly with one flush but the modern ones have to be flushed twice.

How changes will affect your journey

KEY changes outlined within the Arriva network review include:

- CANNOCK ● Route 3 will no longer serve Norton Green Lane but will continue as usual along the rest of the route, ensuring 'improved punctuality' for other passengers using the service.
- A reduction in frequency along Huntington Terrace Road and Belt Road from four buses per hour to three per hour, which will include a regular half-hourly service.

- Route 70, which currently runs every 30 minutes between Rugeley, Hednesford, Cannock, Cheslyn Hay and Wolverhampton is to be split into two new routes to improve punctuality. The 70 will run between Cannock and Wolverhampton hourly. Route 71, which also operates between Cannock and Wolverhampton hourly via a different route, will operate to a revised timetable meaning two buses every hour will link the locations. People in Cheslyn Hay will be also be to reach Cannock via Saphire route 2 which accepts standard Arriva tickets.

- Between Cannock and Rugeley, a new route, number 63, will operate half-hourly as per the former 70 but will no longer serve Pear Tree, to give more direct access between the towns. Pear Tree will be served by an off-peak local operation.

STAFFORD

- Route 76 between Stafford and Wolverhampton will cease to operate its standard service. Arriva will no longer run buses between Wolverhampton and Penkridge outside of the Sunday service. Penkridge to Stafford will still be served by the 75.

Bus services to be cut day after depot closes

By Nathan Briant

ARRIVA is to make cuts and reductions to its services the day after it closes its Stafford depot.

The bus company said its services would be 'stronger, simpler and more sustainable'.

But there has been criticism over a lack of funding for bus transport throughout Staffordshire.

The company will finish a consultation on the futures of up to 50 staff affected by the Stafford depot's closure on September 2 and wants to roll out the changes the next day.

David Ellison, secretary of the Stafford-based Castle Community Partnership, which campaigns for improved bus travel, said: "Not everybody has a car, and a lot of people depend on these routes, so it is affecting them."

Cannock Chase Council leader Councillor George Adamson said: "It is just more and more cuts. Some of these services go down my road – they are busy services."

"It is cuts coming from the [county] council. They are not prepared to fund the services, and people are going to notice the difference."

Arriva says it is working with 'all local stakeholders to ensure a smooth transition in September', and will be hosting a number of roadshows to offer passengers the opportunity to find out more about how their journeys will be altered.

Rob Cheveaux, Arriva Midlands (West) area managing director, said: "Unfortunately, despite our best efforts, low passenger numbers on some of our routes have meant that it is no longer commercially viable for us to continue operating them as they currently are."

Mark Deaville, the county council's cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "While the county council is unable to fund commercial services, we will be working with Arriva and other operators to minimise any inconvenience to passengers." For more information visit www.arrivabus.co.uk

Grandson and lotto win on same day

Jill Rushton, left, of St Giles Hospice Lottery, and £2,000 lottery jackpot winner Alison Barker

A BURNTWOOD mother had a day to remember after scooping a £2,000 lottery jackpot and welcoming her first grandchild.

Alison Barker, from Chasetown, won the St Giles Hospice Lottery on the same day her grandchild Charlie Benjamin was born. The emergency nurse practitioner began supporting St Giles Hospice along with her husband Graham and stepson Chris after her mother, Joy Radford, was cared for at a hospice.

Mrs Barker said: "My support for hospices started when I lost my mum in 2000, after she was really well looked after at a hospice in Exeter, which is where we lived before moving to Staffordshire. When we moved here I wanted to work for St Giles Hospice."

"However, a more permanent position in the NHS came up first, but it really made me understand the importance of supporting their work and that it's such a good place for people to spend the end of their lives, so I decided to play the lottery."

Speaking on her £2,000 prize, Mrs Barker said: "I've given some of the winnings to my family to help them out and there's a bit still sitting there to be used on the house. It's so fantastic to be a jackpot winner – I've never won anything before."

"I couldn't believe it when I found out I'd won, it's so fantastic and it was made even better when my grandchild Charlie Benjamin was born on the same day."

For more information about St Giles Hospice, or to sign up to the lottery, call 01543 434020 or visit www.stgileshospice.com/lottery

Museum to get share of Arts Council investment

ARTS Council England is investing £1.17 million in 14 museums in the Midlands – including the Museum of Cannock Chase.

The aim is to help them to become more sustainable and resilient businesses. The money comes from the Arts Council's Museum Resilience Fund. Over the next two years, it will support a range of projects that will ensure museums have the resources to make the most of their collections.

A grant of £78,000 has been awarded to the Museum of Cannock Chase, which will use the investment to develop a Cultural Heritage Hub that connects all the visitor centres and attractions in the district and South Staffordshire.

Together, they will create visitor packages to encourage groups and individuals to visit the area and learn more about its culture, history and natural landscape.

The museum will also explore new opportunities to improve commercial and retail opportunities.

Staffordshire Archives and Heritage Service will receive £102,000 to help the Staffordshire County Museum to explore new ways of delivering its services and developing its audiences, particularly focusing on rural schools and older people in care.

The museum will relocate from its current base at the Shugborough Estate to its new home at the Staffordshire History Centre in 2021.

In the latest round of funding, 94 museums in England have been awarded a total of £12.2m.

Police panels in call to businesses

STAFFORDSHIRE business people are being invited to play a part in policing in their communities.

Members are wanted for the Safer Neighbourhood Panels, which will hold the Local Policing Team Commander to account.

They will also look at wider criminal justice and community safety issues.

The panels have been launched in Stafford, Lichfield and South Staffordshire and soon all local policing areas in Staffordshire will have one.

Residents and councillors sit on the panels but in some areas businesses are underrepresented.

Anyone interested in applying to join their local Safer Neighbourhood panel should register their interest at www.staffordshire-pcc.gov.uk/safer-neighbourhood-panels/

PlayStation and games go in raid

A PLAYSTATION 4 and games were stolen during a break-in at a house in Foxes Rake, Cannock.

The burglars also took the keys to a car, which they entered but did not drive away. The break-in happened overnight on Wednesday last week.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Flats for site of former social club

PLANS to build apartments at the site of the Blackfords Working Men's Club in Cannock have been granted. Nottingham-based Sterling Capital has been given the green light to develop the plot in Cannock Road. The site has been vacant since the club was bulldozed in 2004.

The scheme is for four two-storey apartment blocks which will create 26 homes in total. More than a dozen residents had opposed the scheme.

Written objections sent to Cannock Chase Council listed reasons such as a loss of privacy to existing homes.

Badges on show at military weekend

MEMBERS of the British Badge Collectors Association will be staging displays at the Cannock Chase military weekend on Saturday and Sunday.

The exhibition of military badges are being held at the Cannock Chase Visitor Centre at Marquis Drive.

"Fellow collectors and visitors to the popular event will be most welcome to view our numerous displays and to discuss points of interest," association secretary Joe Heesom said.

The military weekend is an annual event commemorating the Cannock Chase area's military connections.

Stamp of approval for market's plea

USED stamps are being sought as a way of raising money for charity.

Penkridge Market wants to use the weight of stamps collected by charities and fundraising groups to sell on to dealers and collectors in aid of the Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal.

Fundraising Stamps' Paul Roebuck said: "People just need to cut or tear the stamps off their mail, whilst leaving them on the backing paper and drop them off at the market. We will sell the stamps by weight."

Pupils take part in health career scheme

PUPILS from a Penkridge school took part in a scheme for children considering a future in medicine.

Wolverhampton High School pupils, with others from the area, attended the Aspiring Doctors Programme run by South Staffordshire and Shropshire Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust.

Medical director Dr Abid Khan said: "It was great to welcome these young people to the trust and have the opportunity to share some of our passion for mental health services."

Ready for rambling

CHASE Ramblers have organised a nine-mile moderate/strenuous walk from Alstonfield near Ashbourne this Sunday. Walkers should meet as usual at Hedsnesford railway station car park, in Anglesey Street, for a 9am prompt departure. Call Barry on 01543 684254. New walkers welcome.

Teacher in sex case is given eight months' jail

A TEACHER has been jailed for eight months for sexual activity with a pupil.

Kerry Lawson was charged in connection with an offence against a student at Wolgarston High School in Penkridge. The charge related to the period between September last year and March. The 34-year-old, of Wolsley Road, Stafford, was dismissed by the school in May after the situation came to light.

Lawson was charged by Staffordshire Police under the Sexual Offences Act for a count of adult abuse of a position of trust causing or inciting sexual activity with someone between 13 and 17.

She first appeared at Cannock Magistrates Court on June 22 where the case was committed to Stafford Crown Court due to the severity of the charge.

Lawson pleaded guilty and as well as being jailed was handed a £100 victim surcharge, made the subject of a sexual harm prevention order, and placed on the sex offenders' register for 10 years.

On behalf of the school, headteacher Philip Tapp said: "We are deeply disappointed that one of our staff should betray the trust placed in our profession."

South Staffordshire Councillor Isobel Ford, who represents the school's ward, said: "I am really quite shocked."

"Generally I am very proud of the school they have done a lot for the community so I am sorry this blemishes it."

Severn Trent in callers warning

SEVERN Trent has warned residents to be vigilant after receiving reports that doorstep callers from 'the water board' have been trying to get into people's homes.

Recent reports in both the East and West Midlands have followed similar patterns of individuals trying to con their way in by claiming to work in the water sector.

Severn Trent's head of customer contact Hilary Bennet said: "We can't stress how important it is for customers to check the identity of the person knocking on the door."

"It doesn't matter how convincing they look, if they work for us they'll be carrying an identity card, and you can check that they're legitimate by ringing 0345 604 1655."

Join rangers on a tour of the Chase

VISITORS to Cannock Chase are invited to join the rangers in 4x4 vehicles to explore the forest area.

It costs £50 and takes place on August 20. For more information visit www.forestry.gov.uk/forestry

Fire service call-outs at record low

The blaze at Global Hygiene in Stafford

STAFFORDSHIRE Fire and Rescue service dealt with its lowest number of incidents in its history last year, new figures have revealed.

The countywide service dealt with 8,297 incidents, compared with 12,834 incidents five years ago.

It means the number of incidents has dropped by 4,534 - 35 per cent.

Bosses have put the sharp decrease down to the service's new prevention strategy. The figures were revealed by the chairman of the Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Authority, Councillor Stephen Sweeney, in a report prepared for Staffordshire County Council. The number of incidents dealt with by the service has declined every year since 2010/11 when there were 12,834 incidents. The figure decreased to 11,651 for 2011-12. There was a decrease of more than 2,000 incidents the following year as 9,291 were recorded.

A total of 8,880, 8,400 and 8,297 were recorded for 2013-14, 2014-15 and 2015-16 respectively.

Glynn Luzny, director of prevent and protect services at Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service, praised the multi-agency work carried out by the service, along with the NHS, Staffordshire Police, Age UK and local authorities.

Despite the record low number of incidents, it was not plain sailing for the fire and rescue service this past year. In March they had to deal with one of the biggest blazes the county has ever seen after Global Hygiene on the Astonfields Industrial Estate in Stafford caught fire.

Work to secure the site continued for days, and an investigation into the cause by the Environment Agency is still ongoing.

Tributes for gran, 79, killed in road accident

TRIBUTES have poured in for a Great Wyrley grandmother who lost her life while she was out walking her dog.

Ann Walton, aged 79, was with her daughter Susan, 59, and their dog when they were in collision with a car in a country lane at 8.25am on Saturday, July 30.

They were airlifted to Royal Stoke University Hospital where Ann later died. Susan Walton, aged 59, was in a 'critical condition' in Royal Stoke University Hospital after the crash.

The driver of the car was uninjured, and the dog was taken to a local vets.

Tributes have flooded in since news emerged of the fatal accident in Jones Lane, Great Wyrley, near Jacob Hall's Lane.

Bryn Walton, brother of Susan and son of Ann, said on Facebook: "RIP mom I will miss you so much you and dad are together again we're going to miss you both, in my heart you both always will be I love you both so much." Great Wyrley resident Tracey Cole said: "I do know that they are a part of our community in Great Wyrley and have spoken to them on occasions and fussed their dog with my daughter."

Rachel Dovydaitis said: "Thoughts are with them and their family."

Walking

"Me and my daughters always stop and talk to them such lovely ladies."

Another Great Wyrley resident, Elizabeth Bott, said: "See these 2 people all time. Mother and daughter always walking everywhere with their dog. Such a shame."

Richard Guest said: "On my training runs passed them often in the village there was an aura of devotion that stood out always said hello and they said hello back very friendly it's very sad to hear."

A final tribute from Laura Kerr read: "RIP Ann you will be missed around the village x"

A statement released by Staffordshire Police on behalf of the family read: "The family of Ann and Susan Walton would like to thank friends and family for their support at this extremely difficult time."

"The family wish to request that they be left in peace to grieve this tragic loss."

A police spokesman said: "I have spoken to the officer dealing with the incident and he's confirmed that Susan is still in a critical condition. We are fully investigating the incident, the driver has not been arrested."

Sid's souvenir of day at Wembley

Sid De'Ath, aged 82, with the photograph of him standing on the pitch at Wembley Stadium in 1966

"I can still remember the atmosphere today, it was such a roller-coaster of emotions."

As the relevance of the England football team's only trophy-winning campaign to grow with each level continues to grow with each failed tournament attempt, Rugby man Sid De'Ath recalls what it was like inside Wembley Stadium on July 30, 1966.

Sid, along with three of his colleagues from the Lichfield Referees Association, were chosen to be stewards for the historic game against West Germany. His role was to ensure the standing crowd were guided safely into their correct area and keeping an eye on things during the game.

Sid, who was 32 at the time, said: "The crowd that day were absolutely wonderful, everyone was just there to enjoy the moment. You never know when something like that is going to happen again, so they were only concerned with having fun."

"I didn't really have much to do after everyone was inside, so I got just as wrapped up in the game as anyone else."

While the memories are still fresh in Sid's mind, he also keeps a reminder of his big day on display at his home. Taking pride of place next to pictures of loved ones is a photograph of him on the pitch at Wembley before kick-off.

Liquidator call brings back dark memories

BRING back The Liquidator is the message coming from the crowds at Molineux, who want to hear the classic reggae tune return to match days. More than 750 have signed a petition calling for the Harry J Allstars instrumental to be played at the start of home games, after it was dropped in the 1990s when fans began singing obscenities about their rivals to the tune.

It all reminds me of the dark days in the 1980s, when the Bhatti Brothers were in charge. Nobody was calling for The Liquidator then.

IT IS 25 years this week since former British hostage John McCarthy was freed from captivity in Beirut. November will mark the 25th anniversary since Terry Waite was freed.

Waite, one might recall, was the Archbishop of Canterbury's special envoy who travelled to Beirut in an attempt to persuade terror group Islamic Jihad to free the hostages, including McCarthy, Second World War hero Jackie Mann, and Irish lecturer Brian Keenan.

He went there on trust, believing that as a man of the church, rather than a politician or diplomat, the terrorists would listen to him.

He was wrong. Instead of honouring the trust placed in them, the men of Islamic Jihad concocted a story about the hostages being ill and needing to see him. They then kidnapped him and kept him in solitary confinement for the best part of five years.

Since his release, Waite has worked tirelessly for several charities, and given up his time to help the families of other hostages. He was made a CBE for his efforts.

Meanwhile, in David Cameron's resignations honours list, Will Straw, the son of former home secretary Jack Straw is also recommended to become a CBE.

His only notable contribution to date is organising the failed campaign for Britain to remain in the EU.

David Cameron's former press secretary Craig Oliver is to be given a knighthood, while a couple of wealthy Tory Party donors are also in line for life peerages. Is a political spin doctor really to be valued more highly than a man who knowingly put his life on the line in the hope of helping others?

Does spreading scare stories about leaving the EU really equate to a lifetime's selfless charity work?

Surely by now, Terry Waite has done enough to earn a knighthood. And I can't help but think he would use a seat in the House of Lords to far greater impact than any political placeman.

Great War secrets given up by Chase

Volunteers have made it their mission to tell people of the soldiers who trained there, as Richard Guttridge explains

WITH its sweeping hills, towering trees and flowing streams, Cannock Chase is rightly regarded as one of the finest locations in the Midlands - but many might not know the important role it played during the First World War.

Thousands of soldiers were stationed on the Chase during the Great War, which acted as a huge training base.

A group of volunteers have made it their mission to tell this story.

Thanks to a heritage lottery grant, the Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty Partnership has been able to arrange bus tours, stopping along the route at points of historical interest. They were originally due to run two bus tours, but were forced to arrange an extra one due to demand.

Isolation

During the First World War, two training camps were set up on the Chase, at Brocton and Rugeley. It was seen as the ideal location due to its isolation, vastness and it was within relatively easy reach for most people.

The tour takes in both the British and German war cemeteries, the two camps and the Great War Hut, where the men who trained on the Chase lived.

Anne Walker, from the group, said: "We have been working with the Friends of Cannock Chase and helping them to get the Heritage Lottery funding.

"A lot of people know the Chase and a lot of people know about the connections with the First World War but they don't necessarily know how to pinpoint those areas.

"We find it much better to give them guided tours rather than to say 'off you go, go and find things', because there are tripping hazards,

Visitors to the Cannock Chase Commonwealth War Cemetery study the graves of soldiers killed in the First World War lumps of coal and practice trenches. There are mini fissures all over the Chase."

Cannock Chase had actually been used for military training for more than 40 years prior to the outbreak of the war. Then in 1914, the camps were set up after the Earl of Lichfield, who owned the estate, agreed to loan the land to the War Office.

But the number of men at the camps would soon be swelled thanks to Lord Kitchener's famous call to arms.

Mrs Walker said: "At the beginning of the First World War the reservist force wasn't very big. The German Army had much greater reserves.

"Suddenly, after Kitchener's 'Your Country Needs You' call, a million men signed up and there were no plans to train them.

"Cannock Chase was important as it was central and had good rail and road links, even in those days."

Rugeley Camp was the first to be completed and Brocton camp soon followed, with each able to train 20,000. It's thought around half a million passed through during the course of the conflict.

Mrs Walker said: "There are stories about the camps. One person told us how their father, who was from Wolverhampton, lied about his age when he was 16 to get into Brocton Camp. He survived the war. A lot of people would lie about their age as they were excited about war and felt they wanted to do their duty."

As for the training itself, Mrs Walker said reports showed it was 'second to none'. She said: "They learned from battles fought previously and came back and put that knowledge into training. The first sniper school was on Cannock Chase."

Philip Howard, 72, from Burntwood, said: "I'm interested in both the First and Second World Wars and I thought it would be interesting to see. I've lived in the area for 40 years and have never seen anything like it."

Band's single beats the drum for Stephen legacy

A NEW single in memory of inspirational teenager Stephen Sutton has been released by the band that helped him 'tick a dream off' his bucket list.

Four years ago, the Pandemonium Drummers group wowed the world at the opening ceremony for the 2012 Olympic Games.

Watching on that evening was Burntwood teenager Stephen, who went on to raise more than £5 million for the Teenage Cancer Trust before he died in 2014.

His positivity in the face of adversity captured the hearts of thousands across the world, and his efforts to tick items off his 'bucket list' were followed keenly on social media.

At number 24 on that list was 'to drum in front of a huge crowd', which he got the chance to do with the Pandemonium Drummers ahead of the 2013 Uefa Champions League Final.

Now, the group has dedicated its first single, called 'Champion', to Stephen. Proceeds will be donated to the Teenage Cancer Trust. Following Stephen's death, his mother Jane has taken on the mantle of fundraiser for the charity, which helped Stephen during his four-year battle. Last month, she spoke in front of a crowd of 37,000 at CarFest North at Bolesworth Castle in Cheshire to help promote the single.

She documented her day on social media, telling the 1.3 million fans of the 'Stephen's Story' Facebook page the experience was 'daunting but exciting' before taking to the stage with Chris Evans, who hosted the event. She posted afterwards: "Wow - I never expected this to be happening today."

On Facebook page, she added: "Stephen was invited to become the only honorary Pandemonium drummer - something I know meant so much to him. Looking back at Stephen's bucket list, No 10 was to 'write, record and release a charity single with my old band'. Unfortunately time ran out for Stephen before he was able to complete this item, but I'm sure he would have been thrilled to see this wonderful single, written by one of the drummers, Denis Fernando, released today.

"Two of the fabulous lead singers are young women who have been supported by Teenage Cancer Trust - Melissa Cavanagh (who sang in Boy George's team in The Voice earlier this year) and newcomer Gina Maloney. "By downloading, you'll be helping to raise money for Teenage Cancer Trust while at the same time enjoying a fabulous song and adding to Stephen's total which stands in excess of £5.6 million."

To purchase Champion, visit Amazon, Google Play or iTunes and search 'Pandemonium Drummers Champion'.

8 Why was there no coverage?

THE Chronicle Thursday, August 11, 2016

AFTER reading Roger Allen's letter I thought I had to write in ("Power is the only answer", August 4).

Jeremy Corbyn has been pulling in thousands of people at his rallies but the media don't show it. In Liverpool and Brighton they had to close the roads but there was nothing in the papers or on TV or Facebook, even though there was a wide range of people from all walks of life.

HAZEL ROLLINS

Not exactly a small walk

WITH reference to the bid for extra hospital car parking failing, so be it ("Hospital car park bid fails", July 28).

But I do take exception to Councillor Paul Snape's remark "It would be healthy to have a small walk". It is not a small walk for people attending hospital with walking difficulties etc.

I can assume the councilor is quite agile.

DN WALKER

Sport should be accessible for everyone

DO you have a favourite sports team? Do you like to watch them play live?

Imagine if your matchday experience were one of isolation, frustration – and even abuse. Unfortunately this is the reality faced by many disabled football fans, who sometimes struggle just to secure a simple wheelchair accessible space, let alone a dignified experience.

I work for the national disability charity Revitalise, which provides respite breaks for disabled people and carers at three accessible centres around the UK. To mark the start of the football season, we did some research into the number of wheelchair spaces at Championship football stadiums.

We were shocked to find that most clubs weren't meeting UEFA's accessibility guidelines, which they signed up to over a decade ago.

Blackburn Rovers, Derby County, Rotherham United and Brighton and Hove Albion all had more than the recommended number of wheelchair spaces for their stadiums. But the findings were not good news for disabled supporters in London, with Fulham, Queens Park Rangers and Brentford each with fewer than 25 per cent of the wheelchair spaces required. This is simply not good enough.

It is shameful that some disabled fans are missing out on the chance to watch our national sport. Disabled supporters deserve the same enjoyable, socially inclusive experience as all fans.

Village can be proud of award

AS many residents of Norton Canes are aware, the parish council entered the 2016 Staffordshire Best Kept Village Competition.

For the previous two years Norton has received a Highly Commended award in our relevant category but this year we were delighted to have gone one better and received third place in the Large Village Cannock Chase/Lichfield category.

As chairman of the parish council may I take this opportunity on behalf of the council to thank everyone who has worked hard towards achieving this result.

The residents, businesses and local groups of Norton are a credit to the village, and you should all be proud of yourselves.

There is always more we can do to improve the village, but this award shows recognition that the improvements are being made, so thank you once again for your efforts.

A realistic view of picking up trophies

THE football season is here and thanks to Leicester City's exploits all Premier League fans of absolutely every team have even higher expectations – Europa League, Champions League, PL Champions – but only one team's supporters cannot dream of such hopes.

I'll give you a clue: you need more than a perennial target of 40 points to achieve any of the above!

The WBA manager has a proud (embarrassing, as it shows no ambition) record of 'never been relegated'. It is interesting to know that there is another record WBA fans are maybe not aware of, which is after many seasons in the PL as manager of Stoke City, Palace, and WBA, none of these teams have ever finished in the top 10. Tony Pulis is a survivalist only and boring as hell, to boot.

Sort out the unpaid bills before applying for cash

WHY is it that Councillor Adamson always blames the Government? In a Chronicle report he tells us that the Government will not give the council any more money because it's a Labour-run authority ("Cash snub is political says council's leader", July 28).

Then in the same edition an article states that Cannock Chase Council is owed £6 million in unpaid council tax and business rates. Who in their right minds would give more funding to a council that let's this happen? Get out there and get that money in first. If it's that easy to get away without paying council tax, we may as well all stop paying.

Ruling is a crushing blow

THE failure to obtain a legal ban preventing Jeremy Corbyn from defending his leadership in another election contest is a crushing blow to the quislings hoping to remove him. They face their nightmare scenario of him once again showing that he has the overwhelming support of party members. The 170 Conservatives face public humiliation as the prospect of another reserve Tory Party is rejected.

1,500 new jobs likely as £50m HQ to be built

An artist's impression of the huge building which is due to be built on land at Four Ashes

HUNDREDS of jobs are on the way to Staffordshire after a manufacturing firm confirmed plans to build a £50m headquarters in the county.

The company, which has not yet been named, aims to set up a base at Four Ashes, off the A449.

It is the first part of a major warehousing development that could eventually create up to 1,500 jobs.

The firm has agreed a 25-year lease for the 543,000 sq ft site, which could be expanded by another 101,000 sq ft. The number of people working at the facility has not been revealed, but there will be car parking for up to 350 vehicles.

Property investment company Tritax Big Box has sealed a £56.3m deal to provide the funding to develop the new logistics facility. The deal is conditional on the project receiving detailed planned consent from South Staffordshire District Council.

It is proposed for land off Gravelly Way, and the site has already been prepared by developer Bericote Properties.

In a statement to the stock market, Tritax said construction of the main works is expected to start next month with completion due by July next year. The new facility will have a gross internal area of 543,692 sq ft with expansion land to accommodate up to a further 101,139 sq ft.

The building is expected to stand up to 15 metres tall – nearly 50ft.

It is the biggest of four industrial and warehousing units proposed for the site by Bericote which the developer says could create more than 1,500 jobs in total and see £120m invested in the area.

In its application Bericote is proposing a total development of more than 1.1 million sq ft on the site, part of which used to be a chemical works.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

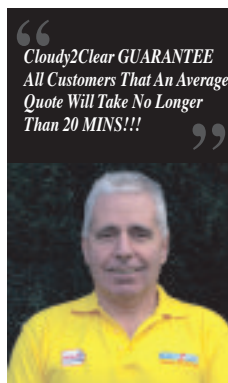

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service Cannock & the surrounding areas and manager Brian Stanley agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Important facts on breast care

Burntwood WI

MARY Jarvis provided the cakes to celebrate the wedding of her son Peter to Gemma. The celebration picnic for the Queen's birthday had been a huge success and the weather was good so everyone was able to sit outside and enjoy. Thanks were expressed to all who had helped at this event.

Report of county activities and the club's own upcoming events was given. There was a letter from St Giles thanking the club for the cakes which were taken over to replenish their supplies.

Speaker for the evening was Gina Newman from the Stafford Breast Care and Screening Unit. After her introduction she gave a very informative talk on the importance of breast care, how to check oneself, the risk factors, what they are, and a fact which many didn't know is that you can request a screening after you are 70. Gina has worked for the unit for 13 years and has seen a considerable decrease in cancer deaths because of early diagnosis. After her talk she was asked many questions from the floor.

Margaret Copland had attended the National Meeting in Eastbourne and she reported back on all that had happened on the day, she finished by saying what a wonderful experience it had been and would certainly go again if the opportunity arrived.

Social time was a music quiz, which are always enjoyable. Chris Willis won the competition for a necklace without metal. Ron gave the thought for the month.

Speaker's guide to Shugborough Hall

CHAIRMAN Joyce Cox welcomed members and speaker Judy Hubble, a guide at Shugborough Hall.

Judy gave a potted history of the hall's origins and of George Anson who at the age of 14, in the 1700s, volunteered for the Navy. During his successful career as captain he commandeered £140 million from a Spanish ship, who in turn had stolen the gold from the Incas. His reward was an Admiralty, and his monetary gains enabled him to develop Shugborough from a two-storey hall to the mansion it is today.

Shugborough's most recent celebrity was Lord Anson, aka Patrick Lichfield, the Queen's cousin and photographer whose images are on display at the hall. Lord Lichfield once described himself as living in "Britain's largest council house" as the hall passed to the National Trust to pay for his grandfather and father's death duties, and was managed by Stafford County Council, while he retained a leased apartment there.

Mary Fullelove gave the vote of thanks. Meetings are held on the first Thursday of each month at The Chase Golf Club at noon. For further information contact the membership secretary 01543 505107.

Shown around secret garden

TWENTY five members visited The Secret Garden in Little Haywood for their summer outing.

The garden's creator, David Aston, has lived at the property for 36 years and together with his partner Derek, a gardener on the Shugborough estate, opened it up as part of the National Garden Scheme nine years ago. The garden covers more than an acre. The pathway through it is a perfectly manicured lawn due to Derek previously being a greenkeeper at a golf course. There are two summer houses, each crammed with mementos and china, glass ornaments and comfy chairs and settees.

Etching Hill WI

There is also an aviary and raised gazebo from which views over Cannock Chase can be seen. It was a delightful place to be on a pleasant summer's evening.

Tea was served in a marquee accompanied by a slice of David's delicious cream and jam sponge.

Newlife eases youngster's discomfort

FOR many five-year-old boys going to school, making new friends is the start of them experiencing their own independence – but for Viyan Shah, this is not possible because he has a life-limiting condition.

He can attend school only in the mornings when he is well enough, and he has to sleep in his parents' room to ensure his safety and so they can cater to his medical needs as quickly as possible. But thanks to his new specialist bed provided by Cannock-based Newlife Foundation for Disabled Children, he is now getting the essential care he needs.

Not only is the Burton-on-Trent youngster getting a good night's rest but so are his family. Viyan had an Atypical Teratoid/Rhabdoid brain tumour which was successfully treated but left him with a tracheostomy and gastrostomy.

Sadly after 18 months in remission the cancer reappeared, this time in his spine, and since December his health has deteriorated further and he is now fully dependent for all his care needs – he has no movement or sensation from the waist down and is a full-time wheelchair user. With no provision available locally to fund the £1,811 bed, Viyan's family contacted Newlife for help.

His Binita Shah said: "The bed is fantastic, Viyan is now sleeping through the night which is amazing. It is much easier to cater to his needs."

Delight as best kept villages are named

GNOSALL and Acton Trussell were the big winners as this year's instalment of the annual Staffordshire Best Kept Village (BKV) drew to a close.

Gnosall won best kept large village for the whole of the county while Acton Trussell won best kept small village.

The two also topped their respective areas, with Gnosall winning Stafford large village and Acton Trussell claiming the South Staffordshire small village crown.

For winning the county awards, the pair were given a shield donated by the Community Council of Staffordshire and a tree donated by Mr Amyas Stafford-Northcote.

Coordinator of the BKV for Gnosall, Dave Clarke, was delighted with the result.

The 69-year-old, who worked as a teacher for 40 years, said: "The BKV has been running in Staffordshire for 40-odd years, and I had nothing to do with it during my working life."

Real

"In that earlier period we had won it once or twice. We started entering again in 2006 and won in 2010 but that's the last success in terms of winning that we've had."

"It's all about community, its not about which village is the prettiest but it's to see which supplies real evidence of a community working together."

"Everyone in the village is chuffed with the result. Loads of people have got involved and done their bit from the pubs and business and shops."

Other winners include Hopton for Stafford small village, Kinver for South Staffordshire large village, Fradley for Cannock Chase/Lichfield large village and Kings Bromley for Cannock Chase/Lichfield small village.

The results were announced by John Perry, chairman of the BKV working group which organises the competition on behalf of the Community Council of Staffordshire.

Heart op man thanks staff

Joseph Woodhouse with wife Pauline at home in Cheslyn Hay

A CHESLYN HAY grandfather-of-three has given his heartfelt thanks to the surgeons who performed major heart surgery on him. Joseph Woodhouse, of Park Close, had the surgery at New Cross Hospital in Wolverhampton to correct an irregular heartbeat, blood clots and a leaking valve.

The 76-year-old said he was put at ease and that staff went all out to make him feel welcome in what was his first ever hospital stay.

After an appointment with a doctor on July 8 he was booked in for the operation a week later. He said: "I was a bit shocked to say the least. My surgeon was Dr [Nikos] Nikolaidis – he was fantastic. When you go in there you're apprehensive.

"I didn't think I would come out of there alive and see my family again. He said 'You will – when I've finished with you, you'll be doing the marathon!'. All staff in there made me feel part of the family."

And he said all NHS staff should be backed rather than criticised. He added: "I don't think they should be knocking it."

Mr Woodhouse is back at home, being cared for by his wife of 51 years, Pauline, and is now on a routine of at least 13 tablets a day.

He will go back to the hospital for a check-up next month.

Council rewarded for open spaces

Christine Mitchell and Tom Walsh, parks and open spaces manager, receive the award from Keep Britain Tidy officials SITES run by Cannock Chase Council – Cannock Park, Elmore Park, Ravenhill Park, Castle Ring and Stile Cop Cemetery – have been named as among the best in the UK.

They are among a record-breaking 1,686 parks and green spaces that received a Green Flag award – the mark of a quality park or green space.

The Green Flag scheme, which is celebrating its 20th year, recognises and rewards the best parks and green spaces across the country.

Councillor Christine Mitchell, portfolio leader for culture and sport, said: "These awards recognise the hard work that the council's staff, community groups and partners put into keeping the green spaces within Cannock Chase to the very highest standard for both residents and visitors."

Talks look at war project

FREE talks about Cannock Chase's First World War heritage are taking place this month.

After receiving funding from the Heritage Lottery Fund last year, The Friends of Cannock Chase, in partnership with Cannock Chase AONB, received a further £9,500 to deliver the second stage of the 'Reaching Out Arms – The Story of WWI on Cannock Chase' project.

As part of the second phase, the organisers are holding two free talks about the project and what the team has uncovered so far.

Trevor Warburton, from the Friends of Cannock Chase, said: "Come along to one of our talks and find out more about our recent research project conducted by local volunteers."

"Talks will cover all our findings from our research into the history of the camps, including what they may have been like, who stayed on them, and then what happened after the camps were closed."

The first talk is on Tuesday, August 16, from 4pm to 6pm and will take place at The Great War Hut in Cannock Chase Visitor Centre, Marquis Drive. The second opportunity to hear a talk is on Wednesday, August 24 from 7pm to 9pm, at the Craft Workshop in the Museum of Cannock Chase in Valley Road, Hednesford.

Booking is essential and places will be given on a first come, first served basis. To book your free place, call Cannock Chase AONB on 01785 619185. Anyone interested in the project team giving a talk to a community group can find out more by emailing cannockchaseww1@outlook.com

Cannock top of cars chart

CANNOCK is home to the most modified cars in the UK, according to a survey. Statistics from Euro Car Parts show that the town's residents are officially the most likely to put their own stamp on their vehicles. Cannock came first in a chart of places where owners 'pimp up' their cars. The South East is the region where modifying is most popular, with 21 per cent of the locations in the overall top 80. Paul Baylis, spokesman for Euro Car Parts, said: "It's great to see the interest of car modification is still going strong."

The Top 10 UK towns and cities for car modification are 1 Cannock, 2 Slough, 3 Bridgwater, 4 Canterbury, 5 Wednesbury, 6 Kings Lynn, 7 Wellingborough, 8 Yeovil, 9 Watford, 10 Cambridge.

Plan for crematorium near school is put back on table

A FRESH bid to build a crematorium near a school has been put forward – despite previously being thrown out.

By Carl Jackson

It is the second time permission has been sought to add a crematorium to Chase & District Memorial Park on the Burntwood Way site in Burntwood.

The first application, made by Midlands Funeral Directors in 2014, was rejected after a judicial review due to concerns over a lack of parking, the close proximity of the Erasmus Darwin Academy and the impact on the green belt. But Chase & District Memorial Park, which owns the site, now says there is no need for additional parking, insisting that it would be a 'positive' for pupils at the school, which is about 250 metres away, and could be used as a teaching aid around the experiences of death.

Plans would see an existing building at the site altered to become a crematorium.

It comes after cemetery chiefs gained permission to introduce a mausoleum at the site by successfully appealing the council's refusal of the scheme.

A statement from Robinson Lloyd Architecture (RLA) speaking on behalf of the owners, said: "The current application relates to a change of use from a cemetery building to a crematorium. However, this is not a crematorium in the traditional sense but a facility offering 'direct cremations'. There are a limited number of these facilities available in the UK."

Lichfield District Council has set a date to determine the crematorium bid by September 15.

Clinic lined up at off-licence site

PLANS have been submitted to turn the former Bargain Booze in Burntwood into an osteopathy and podiatry clinic.

The proposal is for the former off-licence at the Swan Corner Shopping Centre in Chase Road which is now empty.

The application would involve the relocation of Burntwood Osteopathic Clinic from High Street and Chase Podiatry, based in Cannock, setting up a Burntwood branch.

The plans, which are with Lichfield District Council, state: "The clinic will potentially reduce local NHS demand for services by providing individuals with alternative health care options."

A clinic providing private osteopathy, physiotherapy and podiatry in one place in Burntwood Swan Island Shopping Centre reduces the need for out of town travel."

Closure of social club 'a big blow to town'

Mini magic in all its colours

A limited edition Paul Smith Mini was one of the main attractions at the Classic Car and Transport Show at Shugborough

THE limited edition Paul Smith Mini was a main attraction for thousands of visitors at this year's Classic Car and Transport Show.

An estimated 5,000 visitors and exhibitors descended on the Shugborough Estate for the event on Sunday. The show is now in its fifth year. This year's spectacle was organised for the first time by Gemini Events, creators of classic motor shows at venues across England.

It featured more than 1,000 exhibits including classic cars, American kit and custom vehicles, motorcycles, as well as commercial and club stands. The colourful Paul Smith Mini is one of the best equipped limited edition minis – and one of the most luxurious production minis ever made.

Also attracting attention was a limited edition Downton by Rover which was an award winner at the end of the day.

Gemini Events director Stephen Smith said: "Visitors were delighted with the show. Everyone had a great day. It was wonderful."

Mr Smith said he was asked by visitors whether the show would be the last, as Shugborough will be taken over by the National Trust in October. "I'm hoping it is not the last. I will have a meeting with the National Trust," he added.

THE closure of a social club based next to the soon to be demolished Rugeley Power Station will be a 'big blow' to the town, a councillor has said.

The Rugeley Power Station Club, which provides a host of leisure facilities to about 1,800 members, will be closed by energy giant Engie at the end of March.

Engie announced the power station's closure in February, and it shut earlier this summer with the loss of 150 jobs.

Gerald Molineux, one of the three Breerton and Ravenhill councillors on Cannock Chase Council, said: "Obviously it will be a big blow to the area. There are a lot of people who use it, and it has quite a good membership."

"We've got the Lea Hall Club and the Mansfield Club. There is nothing up the other end of the town. It is a shame."

Councillor Molineux said he shared concerns that the town could be left with insufficient leisure facilities.

Worried

He said: "There's not a lot really. I was hoping [Engie] were going to keep it."

"I assumed that they would cordon it off and let the people from the new housing estate to use it."

A club member, who did not want to be named, said he was worried about the dearth of play areas for people in the town.

He said: "My biggest gripe is that there are lots of new houses around Rugeley – but what about the recreation facilities?"

An Engie spokesman said: "Engie takes its health and safety responsibilities extremely seriously, and the safety of its employees and any visitors to its sites must take priority. This meant that unfortunately Engie had to give notice to the club to close by the end of March 2017, consistent with the start of demolition."

"We informed the local authorities of the situation some months ago and continue to discuss with them options for the future of the club and its facilities as part of the wider future development of the site."

FOCUS ON RUGELEY

Weather kind this time for tidy-up

Growth at builders' merchant

BUILDERS' merchant Walter Tipper is expanding its workforce by a quarter and is set to increase turnover by 10 per cent from £45 million.

It comes after the Lichfield-based firm secured a £10.5m funding package from Lloyds Bank Commercial Banking.

The family-run company supplies trade customers with services from tool hire to supplying bathroom and kitchen units.

The funding from Lloyds has allowed it to acquire two businesses - Nottinghamshire-based Huthwaite Roofing Suppliers and G & J Builders' Merchants in Rugeley.

Six acres of land has been bought in Rugeley to support this acquisition, which will also be home to a new merchant depot.

Wildlife team to tackle mud run

A TEAM from Staffordshire Wildlife Trust are to tackle an annual mud run.

Victoria Liu, aged 28, Hayley Dorrington, 28, and Rory Middleton, 26, are to take part in the Moddershall Oaks' Mucky Ducks Run on Sunday to raise money for the trust.

The route covers 72 acres of countryside surrounding the spa. Sponsor them at www.justgiving.com/fundraising/muckyduck

Work party volunteers take a break under their new gazebo

A volunteer works on the towpath

THIRTEEN volunteers, two children and Snowy the dog turned out for a tidy-up of the Brindley Bank area.

A previous work party planned by the Lichfield branch of the Inland Waterways Association was called off due to bad weather, and in the meantime the grass, brambles and litter had got totally out of control.

The morning started badly with the Canal & River Trust (CRT) having a problem getting the equipment delivered. Thankfully, the group had their own mower and strimmer, and a few quick phone calls produced enough clippers and loppers from our volunteers' sheds to get us started.

By this time the CRT had resolved their situation and the rest of the kit turned up to augment our own.

Work party organiser Margaret Beardsmore said: "It was good to see Sue Blocksidge, our new volunteer co-ordinator from CRT, as we now are part of the West Midlands Area.

"We hope to be working more closely with CRT under the new arrangements so watch out for developments from the autumn onwards," she added.

"Everyone really worked hard to get the job done, and for once the weather was pretty kind to us.

"A big thanks to all our volunteers and an extra thank you to everyone who brought tools, garden chairs and to Richard Curtis for the donation of a new gazebo.

"Also thanks to Ed Rule, who borrowed his neighbour's trailer to collect our heavy equipment, and also Helen Whitehouse for providing the shed."

Restaurant earns praise a second year

Tony Uddin, owner of the Dilshad, and Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling

AN award-winning Indian restaurant has been highly commended in a prestigious cuisine competition for a second year running. The Dilshad, in Cannock Road, Chaddsmoor, was highly commended in the regional final of the Tiffin Cup after being nominated for the award by Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling. She has dined at the Dilshad and recognised its culinary excellence.

The competition is run annually by MP Keith Vaz. MPs nominate a restaurant in their constituency, and regional winners progress to the national completion and cook at the Houses of Parliament.

The competition not only celebrates the diversity of South Asian food in the UK but also raises money for the chosen charity of the Tiffin Club which runs the competition. The Dilshad failed to make the grand final on this occasion, but owner Tony Uddin received a special embroidered apron and certificate.

He said: "I am very proud and honoured to be highly commended this year. I would like to say a big thank you to MP Amanda Milling who nominated us for the Tiffin Cup. She has enjoyed spending time at the Dilshad and I am delighted she rated us highly enough to be entered."

Increase in number of children expelled

THE number of pupils expelled from schools in Staffordshire and the Black Country rose by more than a quarter over a year, new figures have revealed.

A total of 363 pupils were kicked out in 2014-15 with violent attacks on pupils and staff the reason behind 60 youngsters being excluded.

The previous year 292 pupils were expelled across the region.

The figures include all state-run primary, secondary and special schools and do not include academies.

Staffordshire saw 127 exclusions, a rise of 30 per cent according to the Department for Education figures.

Absolute

Across the county 17 students were expelled for fighting with classmates, while 19 were thrown out for attacking staff and 14 excluded for making threats.

A total of 31 youngsters were removed from primary schools in Staffordshire.

County councillor Ben Adams, cabinet member for learning and skills, said exclusion was only ever 'an absolute last resort'.

He added that the council had support services in place to help pupils who were having issues at school.

By Peter Madeley

In Wolverhampton exclusions almost trebled from 10 in 2013-14 to 28 the following year.

They included three pupils who were thrown out for using drugs or alcohol on school premises.

Dudley's schools saw 100 exclusions, up 24 per cent from 2013-14.

Forty eight pupils were expelled for persistent disruptive behaviour, while eight lost their school places for incidents involving drugs or alcohol.

Walsall was the only authority to see a fall over the period.

In 2014-15 a total of 53 pupils were excluded, a drop of four from the previous year.

Across the area 11,420 pupils were handed temporary exclusions in 2014-15.

Chance to see what is in store

Commercial retail manager Robert Gough

New escalators have been fitted in the Mander Centre

WOLVERHAMPTON'S premier city centre shopping centre is evolving before shoppers' eyes as work on the £35 million revamp steams ahead.

Many structural changes at the Mander Centre are already in use, including new escalators, and it is near impossible to walk through without hearing the sounds of builders at work.

Walls are being knocked through

As the Mander Centre revamp takes shape ROB COX meets man with big plans for future to create bigger units which it is hoped will attract the world's biggest retailers. And in the most striking change of all the former TJ Hughes building in Bell Street has been pulled to the ground to make way for a flagship 90,000 sq ft Debenhams.

These are exciting times for Commercial Retail Manager Robert Gough who took up the post just before Christmas.

He has outlined what has been achieved so far and how work will progress in the coming months.

"To get the retailers that customers have told us they want in Wolverhampton and to keep customers here we had to produce stores which were big enough in size and attractive enough to national and international brands," he said.

"That meant converting some existing units, knocking some together, and a lot of work has been done in the last six months which has been structural.

"What they have had to do as well is to re-shape the whole of the atrium and allow customers to flow around the centre in a different way.

Aspiration

"The aspiration has always been to open up the centre to allow people to see from one side to the other and to see Debenhams and when it is in and when it is open.

"To do that it meant we had to remove the existing escalators, the central lifts, and that has been a big job - but you can't just take them away and not have anything to replace them.

"So before we could remove them we had to start a programme of building a new lift housing and installing new escalators to be built and placed."

Mr Gough, who spent 14 years

Ongoing work, at the Mander Centre, is being revealed working with Debenhams, said the next stage of work will see the revamped centre rapidly take shape.

He said: "Over the next six to 12 months what you will see is units becoming occupied and the completion of parts of the mall actually happening.

"A lot of the finishing touches will not come until 2017 but what is great is that customers have given us really good feedback about how the centre is evolving and they are seeing a different looking Mander Centre.

"I have been pleasantly surprised how quickly customers have adapted to the new lifts, to the escalators, and are finding their way around the centre."

Once completed the flagship Debenhams store will spread across four floors and will be just a fraction smaller than their store at Merry Hill.

The centre's chief believes it will provide city shoppers with a wider range of goods than ever before and be a modern department store unrivalled in the West Midlands.

He added: "We have now completed the demolition of the old TJ Hughes and are at the rebuild phase which will be really exciting to see.

In addition to Debenhams the revamp is creating 10 larger units for the biggest retailers.

In July fashion giant H&M confirmed it will be moving into the Mander Centre and Mr Gough said discussions are on-going with several other brands.

Pokémon fans join in litter pick

The litter pick combined the Pokémon craze with clearing the town of rubbish

A volunteer helps to clear litter

AN innovative approach to highlighting the problem of litter was well supported by Hednesford residents.

Combining the latest craze to hunt Pokémon with the civic need to clear the town of rubbish got several residents of all ages touring the streets while capturing the fictional creatures on the litter safari.

Litter collected varied from the routine including cigarette ends and beer cans through to the unusual, including an eye patch. Cannock Chase Councillor Paul Woodhead said: "If our community used the bins provided or took their rubbish home to show some pride in the area we could do so much more with our council tax."

Cannock Chase Council loaned equipment for the clean-up and disposed of the collected waste.

Safety alert on new craze

STAFFORDSHIRE Police are urging people to protect their personal data when playing Pokémon Go.

The force is also urging people to take into account personal safety if going to locations that are unknown to them.

Millions of gamers across the world are downloading the app which uses a phone's clock and GPS to detect where the user is in the game and make Pokémon appear on the screen so they can be caught. If gamers move around, more types of Pokémon will appear according to the time and location.

Officers are urging players to remember the real world when catching Pokémon by issuing the following top tips:

- Remember, don't make yourself vulnerable – don't be tempted to take your phone out in busy or unlit areas where you could be a target for thieves.

- Always concentrate on any dangers around you and be especially careful when crossing the road – look where you are going and what is coming, don't just focus on your mobile phone.

- Never play the game when driving as this is a criminal offence and you will be prosecuted if caught.

- Ensure that you don't trespass on private property

In addition, gamers are advised to use common sense and sensible judgment and not go to places and locations they would ordinarily not go to on a day-to-day basis, such as hospitals or A&E departments.

Campsite plans for farm hosting festival

FARM owners who have seen their site become a magnet for visitors aim to transform a section of land into a camping site.

Lower Drayton Farm, in Penkridge, the venue for the Middle of Nowhere Music Festival, is seeking planning permission for 10 log cabins, five camping pods, and a toilet and shower block on a plot currently used for agriculture. The application to South Staffordshire Council also includes installing hardstanding for parking and improvements to a track for access.

Farmer Ray Bower and his partner Val James already provide camping for the V Festival at Weston Park. The latest planning bid involves a 750-acre farm off the A449 Stafford Road.

Permission was also sought to turn a storage yard, used for storing farming equipment, into a garage for buses for school services and local bus companies in May.

A month earlier the working beef and arable farm, officially requested to retain the entertainment hub, which was granted temporary permission three years ago. All applications are pending.

Health bosses deny agreeing to £15m social care funding

STAFFORDSHIRE NHS bosses have claimed there was never an agreement in place to provide £15million worth of adult social care funding to Staffordshire County Council, despite claims to the contrary.

The council has accused Clinical Commissioning Groups in the county of breaking a promise to deliver money through the 'Better Care Fund' for three years.

The CCGs have now hit back stating the authority made an 'assumption' based on national policy in 2012-13 adding that only a £5 million one-year deal was formally agreed. As a result of the dispute the council has now proposed cuts to services including slashing £3.4m from drug and alcohol support.

Andrew Donald, chief accountable officer at Cannock Chase, Stafford and Surrounds, and South East Staffordshire & Seisdon Peninsular CCGs said: "The simple fact is, the county council made an assumption, based on national policy some three years ago, that they may be fortunate to get resources through the NHS.

Challenge

"Many councils did not make that assumption but Staffordshire County Council made that assumption. The CCGs did give £5 million, which we did not have, for one year while the other £10 million would come through joint work and savings. The council are now taking a number of decisions about services to balance their books.

"I think the challenge is, you have got to be really careful, when making efficiencies, that you don't create quality impact where all you do is shift costs from one to the other. We will continue to talk to the council but we believe some of those service cuts will be retrograde and will have a knock-on effect on all of us in the end."

Mr Donald said that despite the council's claims, the CCGs' case was backed by the Department of Health.

The county council's deputy leader Ian Parry said: "As part of our commitment to working together, on August 8th, 2015, both the Cannock Chase and Stafford and Surrounds CCGs signed a letter confirming that the Better Care Fund agreement should be considered over a three-year period from 2015-16 to 2017-18."

Mr Donald replied saying the letter to which the council was referring was not 'legally binding'.

We will continue fight for justice say Carl's family

THE family of Stafford man Carl Tindall, who was found dead last year, say they will carry on fighting for justice after four people were cleared of charges relating to his death.

They have also paid tribute to the 35-year-old, from Brocton, who was found lying in Cull Avenue, Stafford, shortly after 10pm on August 22. He died in hospital. At a trial last month, the four defendants were cleared.

Jamie Sleight, 36, of St John's Road, Cannock, was found not guilty of manslaughter. Three others, including the victim's girlfriend Sarah Hurmson, 36, of Greig Court, Heath Hayes, Louise Hurmson, 32, of Avenue Road, Heath Hayes, and Anthony Boddison, 26, of St Peter's Gardens, Stafford, were cleared of assisting an offender.

Now, Mr Tindall's family have released a statement, which reads: "Nothing will bring Carl back to us, no verdict would ever help us as a family. We were in court throughout the trial and have heard all of the evidence of the events of that tragic night.

"We will do everything we can and will not rest until we get justice for Carl."

Former leader in U-turn over route of HS2

FORMER Labour leader Ed Miliband is now opposing HS2 – after a change to the proposed route moved the £55 billion line through a housing estate in his constituency.

Mr Miliband, who previously 'absolutely' supported the high-speed rail link, said the project will now 'disrupt' lives and hit the countryside.

He said: "It's important to try and stop these proposals by making the case for an alternative route."

"The more I hear about this proposed HS2 route, the worse it sounds."

In the run-up to the 2015

general election the then Labour leader re-affirmed his personal and party's commitment to the line which will link London with Birmingham and split in two to Manchester and Leeds.

Mr Miliband's change of heart comes after HS2 Ltd, altered the route last month to allow it to run into Sheffield city centre instead of creating a new station at the Meadowhall shopping complex north east of the city.

The new route could see the demolition of more than 200 new homes on the Shimmer Estate in Mexborough in Mr Miliband's Doncaster North constituency.

Cheers to the county's best

Tony Later, front, Toby Marut and head chef Will Dean of The Littleton Arms

A PENKRIDGE pub is celebrating success after being voted the best in Staffordshire.

The Littleton Arms, in St Michaels' Square, picked up the Staffordshire Pub of the Year Award, collecting 788 votes.

It was followed by the George IV, in Bore Street, Lichfield, which came second, and The Shoal Hill Tavern, in Sandy Lane, Cannock, which came third.

Tony Later, who has owned The Littleton Arms since 2005, said: "I am absolutely ecstatic. I have owned it for 11 years and this is the first award I have won. I couldn't be happier for the team. It has been a joint effort by everyone."

General manager Toby Marut said: "I think we are obviously over the moon.

"Our secret to success is down to great ales and customer service."

"We serve a lot of local people in Penkridge and the nearby areas but we also have a lot of people who stop by from the motorway."

The George IV received 444 votes, and the Shoal Hill Tavern earned 322.

The awards were organised by the Chronicle's sister paper, the Express & Star.

TV couple's wedding has a fairground attraction

Kloe and Lawrence Hollins put their love to the test as they prepare for marriage on Sky TV's Don't Tell the Bride

A COUPLE who had two very different plans for the ideal wedding are to appear on Don't Tell the Bride today.

Kloe Hollins, aged 25, and Lawrence Hollins, 27, who live together in Rugeley, will appear on the Sky One show at 9pm.

Kloe, who works for New Look, wanted a dream wedding on a Caribbean island, while Lawrence, a ground-worker for G Evans, had the idea of the pair tying the knot at a fairground-themed ceremony.

The couple went to a fairground on one of their first dates.

Explaining how they ended up on the show, Kloe said: "We applied about two years ago and got through to the final stages but we had to pull out because I fell pregnant. But they had our details on file and they phoned us and asked if we still wanted to do the show.

"We knew we wanted to get married, so it was a given we would go on it."

The concept of the show is that the wedding is organised by the bridegroom, and Kloe admitted she had 'no idea' what Lawrence was planning.

She added: "Lawrence knew deep down what I wanted but he was going to go with his own idea whether I liked it or not."

During filming the bride and bridegroom are not allowed to contact each other. Kloe could not even contact her brother Kieran because he was Lawrence's best man.

The pair spent four weeks apart which was difficult as their daughter Oriah turns one next month.

Kieran, best man, carries Lawrence

It's one of the biggest shows of the year.

Dirty Dancing – The Classic Story On Stage will head to Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre in November.

Since its Australian debut in 2004, it has become a worldwide phenomenon with productions staged in New Zealand, Germany, the Netherlands, Sweden, South Africa, Hong Kong, Singapore and throughout Europe, consistently breaking box office records.

Now a new production is making its way to the UK with performances at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre from Monday, November 28 to Saturday, December 3, 2016.

We caught up with five cast members to find out about the blockbuster show.

Lewis Griffiths (Johnny Castle), Katie Hartland (Baby), Carlie Milner (Penny), Federico Bellone (director) and Gillian Bruce (choreographer) talked us through the show.

How do you go about turning Dirty Dancing into a stage version?

Gillian Bruce: There is a huge pressure! Everybody knows Dirty Dancing and what I've had to do is look at the ingredients of the movie and adapt it, in terms of styling, so that it works for the stage. Personally, I was very careful when it came to picking the cast. The look had to be right and the sexiness had to be right. I've actually pushed this to be a little more 'dirty' than I think previous versions have been. I've taken that step further, without becoming vulgar! Choreographing the show is very difficult because it's all couple-work. At times the audience could find it difficult to know where to look as there's so much going on! I've tried hard to bring focus to the numbers and make the routines so that the audience can enjoy the entire thing and not be forced into having to pick what to look at.

This is an entirely new production – a different design with new direction and choreography. How does it differ to previous stage versions?

Federico Bellone: We have a brand new set. We took a photo of the resort that was used in the movie and theatricalised it. The new design makes the show easier to fit into a variety of different theatres around the country and it will look great on any stage, big or small, it will work! I think it's better than ever before – we have three revolves on stage, spinning platforms, it will be quite spectacular. The design is much more intricate than before too. In terms of direction, we've picked up the pace. We don't rush through the show but it's very slick.

Carlie Milner: I was in the previous production and loved it but it's also nice to have a fresh take on things. The director gives you all the information and you absorb it all as a cast and it is fun to create a new vision. I've found things that I'd never thought of to do before, and with the extra visual elements of this particular set I think it's going to be a stunning production.

Lewis, what is it like stepping into Patrick Swayze's shoes?

Lewis Griffiths: Patrick Swayze's shoes are big ones to fill, I do feel that I'm in the shadow of Patrick Swayze and rightly so, I think anyone who does this role would be. He made Johnny completely his own and I'm not trying to be Patrick Swayze. What you have to do is take the essence of what he brought to the film and make that applicable to your own abilities on stage.

What has been the most exciting part of rehearsing Dirty Dancing?

Katie Hartland: I think for me what has been most exciting is taking the iconic film and recreating it, making it our own. It's inspiring to work with such a great team because I don't feel that I have half the dance experience that some of the cast have. Working alongside them has been great for me, developing technique with all the different dance styles in the show.

Lewis Griffiths: For me, the casting process was quite unbelievable – to think that I got through the rounds and landed the role of Johnny I felt like I was at the bottom of a very large mountain with an incredibly tough climb ahead of me. Already, with the support of a great cast and creative team I'm halfway up there and when we all get to the top we're going to have one hell of a show! I'm honoured to be a part of it.

Dirty Dancing sits happily in the middle of Musical Theatre and Drama – it isn't necessarily one or the other. How do you approach it?

Federico Bellone: It's very difficult because everyone who comes to see Dirty Dancing probably expects a musical, and a lot of people have said 'aren't Johnny and Baby supposed to sing?' I'll be honest and say that I originally thought the same when I saw the show in the West End in 2007. Then I met Eleanor Bergstein, the author, and she told me many reasons for why they shouldn't and we have to accept that she was perfectly right! I suppose it is a play, but there are plenty of musical numbers with a live band and musicians that give it the musical feel – so it should appeal to people who like both genres. It has the pace and fun of a musical but it is a bit more like reality – they don't just burst into song, music, singing and dancing is only featured naturally as and when it would be in real life.

Is there a certain level of fitness that a Dirty Dancing cast member needs to be to keep up?

Carlie Milner: As any performer would tell you, it's part of the job to stay fit, and also when you're between jobs it's good to turn up to auditions with a certain level of fitness. Your body gets used to the show, I guess it's the same as running three miles a day – eventually your body will just get used to it. It's then up to the individual performer to find their own exercise routines to maintain the energy needed to get you through the show. Cooling down properly is also really important!

What are the most challenging parts of the show?

Carlie Milner: It's a very physical show, sometimes it feels like you're constantly dancing and you have to find it from somewhere to make sure you do everything correctly. My character Penny goes through a trauma so finding the right balance between portraying that honestly and making sure the audience follow the story you're telling through the ups and the downs.

Lewis Griffiths: I consider myself an actor first and foremost, and people tell me that I can dance but I'm in my comfort zone when I'm acting. The character of Johnny is in his comfort zone when he's dancing, he's so at one in a dance studio in his Cuban heels, leading and teaching, so I have to use my strengths as an actor to make my insecurities Johnny Castle's strengths!

Hometown date for Dexys old boy

Pete Williams, once of Dexys, is back in the Black Country

FORMER Dexys Midnight Runners bassist Pete Williams is back on home soil next week.

The Black Country-born musician, who founded Dexys with frontman Kevin Rowland, performs, with friends, at Halesowen Athletics and Cycling Club next Friday (August 19).

Imelda May said of the charismatic musician: "He tells terrific stories set to beautiful melodies and sung with passion, charisma and heartfelt honesty. He draws me in every time."

But she is not the only fan. The Reid twins, Charlie and Craig, aka The Proclaimers, personally invited Williams to support them on their 32 date 2015 UK tour.

"Pete is a storyteller in his songs," said the brothers. "We both thought See was the stand out album of 2012. The soulfulness that Pete brings to everything that he does is inspiring. He has the passion of a young writer, and the philosophical overview of a wise man."

Since then, Williams has performed on BBC Scotland's flagship music show The Quays Sessions and in April sold out Birmingham REP Studio theatre.

He now returns to one of his favourite Black Country venues to perform an intimate 'stripped back' semi-acoustic show featuring songs from both his critically acclaimed albums, 2012's See and Roughnecks and Roustabouts, which was released last year.

He will be joined in the unique setting by some very talented co-collaborators and musical friends.

Tickets are £10, available from the venue or at <http://petewilliamsmusic.com/live>

"I'm completely looking forward to it."

Gabrielle's back on road and will Rise to occasion

HAVING recently completed a sell-out tour as special guest to Michael Bolton, soul star Gabrielle is looking forward to being back on the road to perform a greatest hits set later this year.

Her tour will call at Birmingham's Town Hall on November 2 – and Gabrielle can't wait.

"I am completely looking forward to it," she says. "I did the tour with Michael and he was great. We got to the end of the tour and for the first time in 20-odd years I was depressed. I always look forward to going back home but I'd had such a blast that I wanted to get back out there."

"So the management lined up the shows for November and we announced them straight away. You know, I have a 21-year-old and a 13-year-old so most of the time I'm home alone. They have a better social life than me."

Gabrielle's tour will be stripped back, up close and personal. Fans have already taken to Twitter to tell her what to play. "The audience on Twitter have been making suggestions of songs they'd like me to sing. It'll be a bit scary when I make that final decision."

Gabrielle's career got off to an incredible start in 1993 when she broke the record for the highest chart debut by a female with the single Dreams. It went in at two, before rising to number one. She quickly became Britain's most successful soul singer with subsequent hits Give Me A Little More Time, If You Ever, When A Woman, Sunshine and Out Of Reach, which she wrote for the film Bridget Jones' Diary.

Songwriter's new single is released

WOLVERHAMPTON'S Ivor Novello-winning songwriter Scott Matthews has released a new single, The Lantern Flower, in advance of his forthcoming album, Home Pt II.

Matthews has formed his own record company this year, Shed Records, based in Wolverhampton. Fans can order copies of his new album from www.pledgemusic.com

Matthews will release Home Pt II on September 19. The record finds him returning to the source, driven by what he describes as "a need to rekindle a relationship with the artist I was 10 years ago, but joining forces with the artist I am today."

Tribute to Queen a kind of magic

The following night, two of the UK's finest Reggae bands unite to bring Bilston's very own Reggae Sunsplash as the venue plays host to a UB40 and Bob Marley tribute.

Seeing a chance to get rich, they soon progress from grave robbing to murder in a bid to keep their benefactor in fresh corpses. Comedy horror, starring Simon Pegg, Andy Serkis and Jessica Hynes. (2010)

Famous faces put their knowledge to the test

In 2004, Channel 4 brought together a number of British celebs for the first ever Big Fat Quiz. The show featured comic Jimmy Carr as host and three teams made of two panelists each.

Carr asked the teams questions pertaining to events that had happened that past year.

The show was a massive success, which ensured that it would soon be a yearly thing.

Over the years, though, the programme has reached levels of both legend and infamy.

In 2006, during his heyday as the enfant terrible of British comedy, Russell Brand teamed up with The Mighty Boosh's Noel Fielding.

The two oddballs called themselves The Goth Detectives and began the tradition of purposely writing surreal and ridiculous answers in an effort to amuse the audience as opposed to trying to win the game.

This even led to the pair eventually performing a Goth Detectives-themed show for the Teenage Cancer Trust event at the Royal Albert Hall in 2007.

This tongue-in-cheek spirit has continued throughout the years and not only led to funny moments, but also a bit of controversy.

Back in 2012, James Corden made headlines when he and his League of Their Own pal Jack Whitehall got slightly inebriated on the programme, and even had pizza delivered, washing it down it with red wine.

At one point, it seemed the two drunk comics were hellbent on making the most randy and puerile jokes imaginable.

In addition to the annual year-end shows, Channel Four has also produced some specials.

Timed to coincide with the run-up to the broadcaster's 30th-birthday celebrations in 2012, three episodes were broadcast, each focusing on an entire decade: the 1980s, 1990s and 2000s.

In the past few years, the show seems to have calmed down somewhat, which might explain why they brought on a rampaging dinosaur and let The Great British Baking Show co-host Mel Giedroyc spark a food fight during last year's The Big Fat Quiz of Everything.

Still, the show is a winner and for an hour and a half provides us viewers with a large slice of escapism and madness.

The fact that it probably takes two to three times as long to shoot and the comics go stir-crazy after being held for hours in the same studio perhaps contributes to this.

This evening, in the first of three editions, Carr once again is the host in charge of three teams who answer questions about everything from the last 100,000 years of human history.

Although to keep things slightly more manageable, the quiz is split into categories such as art, literature, television, music, geography, politics, science and celebrity.

Tonight's teams time are Jonathan Ross and Mel Giedroyc, Kristen Schaal and David Mitchell, and Bob Mortimer and Claudia Winkleman.

Viewers can also expect a few special guests, including Jon Snow and Joey Essex as well as some other unexpected visitors.

The Big Fat Quiz of Everything, Monday, Channel 4, 9pm

Kate Humble: My Sheepdog and Me BBC2, 9pm

The broadcaster sets out to breed Welsh sheepdog puppies from her beloved pet Teg, learns about the threat facing British herding dogs and tries to train Teg to work in the traditional Welsh way. Along the way, Kate meets a team at the University of Aberystwyth whose groundbreaking DNA research reveals some remarkable facts about the breed, and if Teg can produce a litter of healthy puppies, it would play a big part in helping one of Britain's unique herding dogs survive for generations to come.

Celeb Trolls: We're Coming to Get You, Thursday, Channel 5, 10pm has spent five years dealing with appalling images and allegations, all because of one tame online comment. Perhaps most shockingly of all, Denise Fergus, the mother of murdered toddler James Bulger, reveals how cruel individuals regularly taunt her about her family's loss. However, Frankie is fighting back with the help of a team of Troll Trackers, who hope to identify some of the people behind this anonymous abuse and hold them accountable for their actions.

FRIDAY

Amazing Spaces Shed of the Year Channel 4, 8pm

This year's competition has featured everything from a Star Wars theme, real-life crocodiles, hydraulics and Viking hideouts, to 360-degree rotating floors, nuclear bunkers, sheds on wheels and entire shed villages. There was a record 2,825 entries into the competition and tonight sees the conclusion, as George Clarke and his fellow judges choose one shed from all the category winners to crown overall winner. But before that, they consider the sheds in the Budget category. To prove a good shed doesn't have to be extravagant or expensive, this selection includes a colourful beach house built for just £20, and the Cabins and Summerhouses which features a classic van and a dream structure in an allotment.

The bungalows at Skegness Water Leisure Park

Try out one of the well-equipped pods

An overview of Skegness Water Leisure Park and its fishing lake

Relax and enjoy a spot of fishing

Forget football! You're on a winner at last with old favourite of mine

MANY a happy family holiday when I was a child was spent at Skegness. I never ventured back until I had children of my own – and the Lincolnshire coast is now firmly back in my affections.

There has been a bit of a theme running through my last three visits – England playing in major football tournaments. And we all know how that ends!

So, you're better off skipping any major sporting competition with home representation and just getting away from it. After all, that is what holidays are all about.

Home of the first ever Butlin's, Skegness, is, as the old poster campaign would have you believe, so bracing. It took a nightmare journey to find that was not necessarily so.

Mark Shipp checks in Torrential rain had left the roads awash with floods and heavy traffic, and Elton John fans on the road to a concert led to further delays. That washed out the first day of our weekend, but we more than made up for it with summer weather the next day.

Our destination was Skegness Water Leisure Park, apt given the conditions we drove there in. That's the Leisure Park at Skegness Water, by the way, for those expecting a host of pool-based activities.

There is a well-stocked lake for the keen anglers though – together with a tackle shop. With Skegness Airfield running alongside the site, helicopter rides are available at certain times, while rail enthusiasts can take a ride on the Lincolnshire Coast Light Railway.

Skegness Water Leisure Park welcomes guests with caravans and tourers. Camping pods are accommodating, though, and very popular, sleeping either four or six, and coming with an outside wooded decking area, picnic bench and barbecue stand.

Seafood

Each pod is a fully insulated wooden structure with solid roof and lockable double-glazed French doors and windows. Electricity and heating is provided, while dogs are welcome in the four-berth pods.

As the site is family-orientated, large parties of three or more couples, mixed groups or single sex groups of three or more will not be accepted.

We stayed in one of the three holiday bungalows, which can sleep up to five people. These are let on a weekly basis from Saturday to Saturday during the main season, but short breaks are available out of season. Prices range from £335 to £550.

We ventured into town to enjoy the sun on our first day. And it wasn't bracing at all as we took in the beach, had a pub meal and tried out one of Skegness's myriad of crazy golf courses.

But there's more to the town than just hitting a ball into a little hole with an obstacle in the way. More to my taste were the little huts selling seafood.

Back on-site there's a family pub, the Barn Inn, providing live entertainment, free wi-fi and sports channels, though I have recommended switching off from all that. Plus, there is a general store, play area, amusement centre and salon.

The site is open until November 20. Call 01754 899400 or email enquiries@skegnesswaterleisurepark.co.uk

Heritage and nostalgia

By John Griffiths

As Europe's oldest motorcycle manufacturer – continuously producing bikes since 1921 – you'd expect heritage and nostalgia to be high on their agenda.

That's certainly true of its two latest models in terms of styling, which to some extent conceals the fact that both are brand new, up-to-date machines sharing the same new and improved engine.

The Roamer and the Bobber both hark back to a previous era, much like successful retro-styled machines from Triumph and Harley-Davidson.

But for aficionados the Guzzi is unique, not least because of its combination of a characterful big V-twin engine mounted across the frame and shaft drive.

It makes the Italian machine feel like no other, particularly when you feel the shimmy of torque through the saddle if you blip the throttle on down changes.

Most modern bikes do the job with commendable efficiency: the Guzzi also feels alive.

Both Roamer and Bobber (the model tested here) are powered by the all-new 850cc V9 engine. With 55bhp it's not the most powerful V-twin, but it does have a 7bhp advantage over Moto Guzzi's older V7s. Rather more important, with this style of bike, is that fact that it has more torque – now 62Nm – which is available at much lower revs (3,000 instead of 5,000rpm).

It's rather surprising what a difference this makes. It feels more flexible and responsive, pulling away smoothly from low revs in top (sixth) gear yet also capable of kicking up its heels for a rapid overtake if you change down a cog or two.

This is what you want from a cruiser bike, and this together with its low saddle and straight bars make the Bobber particularly novice-friendly. A slightly down-powered version of the V9 (to make it learner legal) is due out later in the year.

Steering is accurate (partly due to that big front tyre) and handling is benign. The single disc brakes (320mm at the front and 260mm at the rear) come with ABS and are well up to the task expected of them.

The suspension is firmish (although nowhere near as hard as a typical sports bike) and seems a reasonable compromise for this style of machine.

The seat is low (just 770mm) and you sit behind almost straight bars in a comfortable, upright position. The footpegs are slightly forward of the seat, with your knees tucked up behind the cylinder heads.

The lack of wind protection will help to keep you honest, as while the Guzzi will reach 70mph in short order you probably won't want to maintain that speed over long distances due to the pressure on your arms. But then, it is a cruiser not a racer.

The instruments are housed in a single clock in the centre of the bars – an analogue speedo with a digital trip computer – you can flick through the various modes with your left thumb.

The Bobber costs £7,999, the Roamer is £100 less.

The differences are largely cosmetic, although arguably the Bobber has the edge in the style stakes, based as it is on a min-

The Roamer and the Bobber both hark back to a previous era imalist style of chopped or bobbed bikes which became popular in the US during the 1930s. It's a fashion trend which never really went away, particularly among custom bike enthusiasts.

One cue to its identity is the fat front tyre (130/90 on 16-inch wheels in the Guzzi case) and although red is a colour option, the test bike just looked right in matt black with yellow decals.

The company seems to agree, as it expects this combination to account for around 80 per cent of sales.

It's paint job, slightly cut down mudguards and more forward-leaning, sportier riding position give the Bobber a more hard-core, aggressive attitude than the softer Roamer. That's as it should be, as the first Bobbers were essentially the hot-roads of the two-wheeled world.

Suzuki is 'most improved'

Suzuki GB is delighted to announce that it has been recognised as the 'most improved organisation' in The Institute of Customer Service's annual UK Customer Satisfaction Index (UKCSI) for July 2016.

A national measure of sentiment across the country, the research asks over 10,000 consumers to rate their experiences of dealing with more than 200 different companies across 13 sectors, including brands in the motoring industry.

Compared to the same study in July 2015, Suzuki has since added 9.1 points to give a score of 82.4, which saw the carmaker climb to 27th place overall.

The year-on-year increase in the number of points was greater than any other of the 226 companies classified, and the biggest improvement out of all of the 24 car manufacturers that took part in the study. During the same period, the automotive sector equally saw a 0.6 point-rise in customer satisfaction.

The significant jump in the latest ranking has been assisted by the launch of the nationwide Suzuki Service Promise initiative last summer.

It is designed to ensure that vehicle owners receive a consistently high standard of care across its entire network of Service dealers when they take the car for routine servicing or repair.

Denis Houston, aftersales director at Suzuki GB PLC, said: "We are delighted with the results shown in the Customer Satisfaction Index and this clearly reflects our ongoing investment and the great lengths that Suzuki goes to in order to ensure that every motorist receives the very highest level of service."

"We are extremely pleased that the effort of our dealer network has paid off, and we will continue to strive for even better scores in 2017."

Hands off – testing driver aid technology

We try out Nissan's new Pilot system as the company takes its first steps in the world of driverless cars.

I have the Nissan steering wheel loosely held between my thumbs and forefingers, my feet are placed either side of the pedals and I'm not really paying attention – yet I'm still making gentle progress around a test track.

We're turning corners, speeding up and slowing down, all without any real input from me because just seconds into my drive, I clicked a button on the steering wheel labelled 'Pilot' and let Nissan's new autonomous driving technology take over.

The system – which Nissan is quick to point out is a 'driver aid', not a driverless solution – will be the first to bring this technology to the masses when it debuts on the face-lifted Qashqai SUV next year. It is designed to make long motorway journeys less stressful and safer by aiding the driver, and is the first step in the manufacturer's road map to fully autonomous driving cars by 2020.

Using a camera mounted behind the rear-view mirror, and some clever processing power, ProPILOT can take over in stressful traffic jams and keep you moving in a single lane at speeds of up to 62mph. Not only does it take care of braking and acceleration, but it steers for you too – keeping you in the middle of your lane and tackling bends. The system even holds you at a safe distance from the car in front, or happily nips along if the road's clear.

Setting the system in motion is a breeze. Once you're rolling, you simply hit the steering-wheel mounted 'Pilot' button to turn it on, and push 'set' to choose the speed you want to travel at, much like cruise control.

On our test drive loop, we followed a Nissan LEAF travelling at speeds of up to 30mph. Although you have to be touching the wheel for it to work, our test revealed just a single finger placed at any point on the wheel was enough for it to carry on working.

Take your hands off completely – something you're not allowed to do by law – and after 20 seconds, warnings start and the system stops unless you put your hands back on the wheel. Grip the wheel and you can feel the automated steering wheel working – it's like a force-feedback wheel you'd use while playing a driving simulator game. It certainly doesn't feel natural.

In traffic jams, the car automatically comes to a complete stop and gets going again – but only if the stop is for less than three seconds. Engineers told us that this may well be longer by the time it arrives in the UK to cope with our more sustained jams.

It wasn't all plain sailing, though. On two occasions the car drifted off unnervefully to the left of its lane – not enough to warrant intervention, but enough to worry the driver nonetheless. We asked an engineer why this happened and he had no real answer, but did say tweaks would be made before it's rolled out in Europe.

We've also got concerns about its maximum speed threshold. At 62mph it would be too slow to keep up with traffic on motorways, where it's designed to be used. Hopefully a further tweak that Nissan will make before introduction in the UK will be increasing this to 70mph.

Overall, though, the ProPILOT system is impressive. It'll bring technology that's usually the preserve of luxury cars to the masses, making its debut on top-spec Qashqais costing less than £30,000.

Whether the driving public are ready to accept its capabilities – and its limitations – just yet, remains to be seen.

Megan has the leading edge in the marketplace

By John Griffiths

Renault has hit the ground running with the launch of its new Megana range.

The front runner is the 203bhp GT, but many potential customers will be just as happy with the 108bhp diesel, a real charmer for its punchy performance, low running costs and certainly one of the quietest and refined oil burners in its class.

Prices for the new Megana, with a range of petrol and diesel engines, start at £16,600 while the more powerful and comprehensively equipped GT starts from £25,500.

Estate versions will join the range this autumn, with a diesel hybrid next year, and it would be very surprising if an even more powerful Renaultsport flagship doesn't make an appearance in the near future.

When designing a new car, factors such as aerodynamics (critical for fuel economy) and interior space are limiting factors, so it's no wonder many family hatchbacks have a decidedly samey appearance. But there's a great deal of French style which sets the Megana apart and should make it easily recognisable on the road. The low, slippery front end is characterised by the C-shaped daytime running lights, with the big chrome diamond badge in the centre which is Renault's new marque signature.

Sculpted side panels take you to the rear of the car to a unique and stylish rear light cluster which, for the first time, is also lit up during daytime to give the Megana a look all of its own. The wide rear haunches, tapering to towards the front, make the new Megana look even wider and give it a purposeful look even at rest.

Underneath the skin there is a range of efficient engines, some of the latest technological safety and driving aids and the use of higher grade materials around the cabin which has created the ambience of a more expensive, premium brand.

It is remarkably quiet – the diesel in particular must be top of the class in this respect – with a much stiffer chassis, thicker glass and a lot of attention sound-deadening foam, felt and pads. For those who opt for the GT, some noise will be a requirement of the driving experience so in sport mode there's an electronically produced soundtrack simulating a growly exhaust.

The driving position is cockpit-like, with superbly shaped dual foam sports seats (alcantara in the GT) which support a wide range of body shapes, and there's a plentiful range of adjustment.

In the centre is the large new touch screen controlling a range of vehicle systems, including navigation where fitted,

Control

All Meganas are available with the new Multi-sense drive control system, operated through the central touchscreen. It allows the driver to programme the desired driving characteristics – neutral (or automatic), sport, comfort, personal and eco. These select the appropriate throttle response, engine sound, steering weight, climate control output, interior lighting and, on cars with automated transmission, the speed of gearchanges.

On GT models it also governs the use of the new 4Control active four wheel steering system, a feature unique to the Megana in this sector. Purely mechanical, passive rear wheel steering has been around for a few years. But Renault's computer-controlled system, where the position of the rear wheels are monitored 100 times per second, is a clear advance. At low speeds, around town, the rear wheels turn in the opposite direction to those at the front, much reducing the Megana's turning circle and endowing it with the agility of a city car. On the open road, the rear wheels turn with those at the front by just one degree, making for a quicker turn-in, with great stability and roadholding.

The car's suspension is a good compromise between comfort and roadholding. The GT comes only with the seven-speed dual clutch automated transmission, with which you can choose an eco drive or a more sporty, free-revving performance via the Multi-sense system.

Its 1.6 turbocharged petrol engine produces 205PS and 280Nm of torque, plenty to take the car from a standstill to 62mph in 7.1 seconds, yet driven in gentler style it can achieve 47mpg (official test) and a CO₂ figure of 143g/km.

Figures for the second test car, the 110PS, 1.5 turbodiesel, are 11.3 seconds and up to 72.4mpg, with a tax-efficient 96g/km of CO₂ emissions. The other petrol engine choice is a turbocharged 1.2 producing 130PS, the same as the 1.6 turbo diesel option.

Standard equipment multiple airbags, cruise control, ABS, stability control, tinted windows, fingertip audio remote control, and full Bluetooth connectivity. Automatic headlamps and wipers, automatic climate control leather upholstery, and rear parking and sensors are added further up the range.

There are rivals to the new Megana offering high-efficiency engines but the French hatchback has an edge when it matches that with its premium car ambience, refinement and distinctive styling.

Good price, premium refinement in Insignia

By John Griffiths

Vauxhall's Insignia is a big family car which is aimed firmly at the business market, where low running costs (and in particular tax bills) are critical.

Competition is fierce, with big name rivals such as the Mazda6, VW Passat and, of course, the big-selling Ford Mondeo to contend with. That rivalry has been the key to driving up standards, as well as paring costs, as business drivers often have to spend many hours each working day behind the wheel and take the family out at weekends.

The Insignia has been around for a while, but has been tweaked here and there with particular attention to what's under the bonnet, with a new range of highly efficient engines. The test car was the (wait for it) 1.6CDTi ecoFLEX S/S in Tech Line trim: a bit of a mouthful but popular in company car parks across the country. And I can see why.

The Insignia has good looks on its side because of its sleek, sporty profile which means it could pass itself off as a big coupe – except that it has five doors, and room for five adults and lots of luggage inside.

Even if you're not excited by all things oily and mechanical, you appreciate the brilliance of the relatively small (for a car of this size) 1,598cc turbo diesel engine simply because of the way it impacts on so many aspects of the car.

It is the latest example of what Vauxhall terms its whisper diesel and is aptly named.

You might not be able to hear the clock ticking (it's digital) or a pin drop (because of the thick carpets) but it's virtually silent while cruising the motorway at 70mph, helping the Insignia reach levels of refinement and relaxation that were once the preserve of the rich man's luxury motor.

Its 0 to 62mph time of 10.9 seconds is moderately quick, but with the turbo diesel's 320Nm of torque available from 2,000rpm the sprint figure isn't representative of the Insignia's in-gear performance – for example decisive overtaking.

Impressed

Neither is it underpowered even for such a big car, as its official fuel economy figure is 74.3mpg. That's a laboratory test, of course, which you're unlikely to achieve in the real world but I was impressed by my average of a little over 54mpg. That included around town driving and a trip along Welsh mountains roads with plenty of throttle adjustments and gear changes: on an A-road and motorway cruise I'm confident 60-plus is perfectly possible.

The official figures though mean that its CO2 emissions rating is 99g/km – meaning no road tax and low benefit-in-kind tax for the company car driver. An insurance rating of Group 17E shouldn't break the bank, either.

While running costs are frugal, don't be left with the impression this is a cheap car. The Tech Line cabin is spacious, with high grade materials and big, comfortable seats.

The ride is also a good compromise between dynamics and comfort, so even on poorer surfaces it damps the effects of all but the worst potholes. Yet, with the addition of nicely weighted steering, it's a car you can swing through the corners with confidence.

It's well put together as a car for going the distance. My test drive took in some 200 miles of pretty testing roads which were completed without the driver feeling stiff, tired and grumpy – ideal for today's businessman travelling to an important meeting. The driver gets an electric lumbar support adjuster, which helps keep you comfortable on a long drive and there's an efficient climate control system.

As you'd expect, the driver's comprehensive instrument display is complemented by a central touch screen controller for the audio, satnav and connectivity systems. It also has a programme for adjusting various car settings, eliminating a potential clutter of switches on the fascia.

Standard equipment includes cruise control, electric windows and door mirrors, automatic headlamps and wipers, electronic stability control and six airbags.

An option fitted to the vehicle was Vauxhall's new and impressive Onstar system at £395. Its just three buttons in the roof panel, but using GPS and a telematics system it's a major step forward. You can, for example, speak to a real human operator in Onstar's Luton HQ who can give your car a remote control once-over to see, for example, if your tyres are correctly inflated. Or give them a destination and a route will be downloaded into the car's navigation system.

But probably the most convincing reason for having the option fitted is the red SOS button which can put you in touch with the operator (who will know your location) and alert the emergency services. If the car is stolen, Onstar can remotely disable it and report its location to the police.

The Insignia is competitively priced, particularly for a car offering premium car refinement. Low running costs and futuristic technology to a section of the market where drivers rely on their vehicles to cover high mileages.

It will carry up to 530 litres of cargo (almost 1,500 litres with the rear seats folded down), adding practicality to its stylish yet frugal character.

Hyundai i10 is on the prize

Hyundai is looking for its i10 city car to step up from being merely branded good value for money to being considered best in class – or thereabouts. With smart styling, plenty of space inside, strong equipment levels and a focus on refinement, it's in with a genuine shot.

It's a bigger car than its predecessor, adding 80mm to the length and 65mm to the width. It sits 50mm lower too, helping it avoid the Noddy-car look of many city cars.

The arched sill finisher on the flanks is an idea that looks to have been cribbed from Renault but works extremely well in the sides some shape and depth. The big front air dam looks surprisingly sporty, giving the i10 a much more dynamic look than many deliberately cutesy small cars. Inside, the i10 offers best-in-class legroom and cargo capacity.

Legroom

Front and rear passengers benefit from combined legroom of 1,890mm, while boot capacity has been boosted by more than 10 per cent to 252 litres with all seats in place. By contrast, a Skoda Citigo offers 251 litres, so Hyundai just squeaks in above the class benchmark. Buyers choose between 66PS 1.0-litre or 87PS 1.2-litre petrol engines.

The latest model has targeted improving refinement as a key priority. The suspension has been given a thorough working over to improve ride quality and reduce noise. The longer wheelbase and better quality relocated dampers will help here, improving body control over road imperfections.

The Hyundai i10 might be an inexpensive car, but it's also a hugely significant one.

When conditions are tough, buyers increasingly look to limit their expenditure and often downsize their automotive choices.

There's certainly more temptation to do so now that models of this kind offer the sort of fit, finish, refinement and equipment that we used to expect in a good family hatch. The i10 is a good example of this trend, also offering tidy styling, plenty of space inside and low running costs.

Factor in a five year/unlimited mileage warranty arrangement and the i10 looks able to compete with the class best, even when it's pitched at the same price as them. That's a clear statement of intent from Hyundai.

It's evidence of real confidence in their product and the Koreans are bullish about its prospects. After a first look, it appears their optimism may be well-founded.

XLV, like a Tivoli but bigger

SSANGYONG has announced the new Tivoli XLV, an extended body model of its already popular Tivoli compact SUV.

"Following rapid growth in the compact SUV market, SsangYong responded in 2015 by launching Tivoli, its first small SUV, and already the company's most successful new car. Some 64,000 cars were manufactured and sold around the world last year," said Paul Williams, CEO of SsangYong Motor UK.

"Tivoli has been praised universally for meeting a number of customer requirements, not least its ability to carry five adults in comfort and with one of the largest boot capacities, while many other cars in the sector are regarded as being a 'down-size' too far.

"Now SsangYong has gone a step further by launching an extended car to provide even more carrying capacity and practicality.

"This was shown as the XLV Air concept at the IAA motor show in Frankfurt last year, and from the extremely favourable feedback received, took the decision to put the car into production.

"Following its international debut at Geneva, the Tivoli XLV is now being launched in Europe, and arrives in the UK this summer. Annual sales from the Tivoli platform including XLV are forecast to exceed 100,000 cars this year," he added.

Sharing the same platform and 2,600mm wheelbase as the Tivoli, the XLV features a lengthened body from behind the C pillar, an increase of 238mm over the standard car, expanding the load capacity to a huge 720 cubic litres of space. Meanwhile, the styling cues that distinguish Tivoli are retained, including its harmoniously fused SUV body design, sports coupé look and floating roofline.

Designed to offer a multi-role, multi-function solution to a wide range of customers, Tivoli XLV provides just the versatility needed to meet individual lifestyles: family car for lugging baby buggies and cots for small children, bikes and golf clubs for the sports-minded, and materials or business equipment during the working week.

Passenger safety has been a top priority for this car, and comes with seven airbags including front, side and curtain airbags plus a driver's knee airbag, multi-function ESP (Electronic Stability Program), Active Rollover Protection, Brake Assist, Hill Start Assist and ESS (Emergency Stop Signal), a tyre pressure monitoring system and a warning reminder on all five seat belt positions.

Smooth

Tivoli XLV is offered with a Euro 6 compliant 1.6 litre diesel engine, and matched with the option of a 6-speed manual transmission or 6-speed Aisin automatic, two-wheel drive or 4x4.

The newly developed 1.6 litre e-XDi160 Euro 6 diesel engine produces 115ps/3,400-4,000rpm max power with 300Nm/1,500-2,500rpm, and delivers a smooth, progressive and powerful driving experience. It also features a fifth generation E-VGT turbocharger which maximises performance especially in the mid-low speed range so it is fun and responsive to drive. With manual transmission there's also ISG (stop/start) to meet the demand for low CO2 emission levels.

The 1.6 litre diesel engine achieves a CO2 emission level of just 117g/km (two-wheel drive, manual transmission with Stop/Start), and economy of up to 62.8mpg on the Combined cycle.

The SsangYong DNA is all about 4x4, and the Tivoli XLV draws on this by offering the option of an intelligent 4-wheel drive system.

The electronically controlled on-demand system distributes power to front and rear drive shafts, and automatically adjusts to the road surface and driving conditions to optimise performance.

In normal driving, the drive system distributes all power to the front wheels to enhance fuel efficiency, and automatically adapts to 4-wheel drive in snow or wet slippery conditions, by diverting power to the rear wheels as well to ensure driving stability.

For increased stability and reassurance, particularly when driving on a hill or slope, the 4-wheel drive operates with Hill Start Assist which helps by delivering power to any wheels that are spinning. And for optimised braking performance, ESP and ABS also control the 4x4 system for greater safety.

With a 167mm ground clearance, approach angle of 20.0 degrees, 20.8 degree departure angle, and 17.0 degree ramp angle, a highly competent off-road capability is assured.

Comprehensively equipped, the Tivoli XLV features digital-dual zone automatic air conditioning, an infotainment system with RDS radio, 7" high-resolution touch screen, USB/AUX port, iPod & Bluetooth connectivity, Tom-Tom navigation and rear view camera.

There is cruise control, parking sensors front and rear, rain sensing wipers, automatic headlight activation and stylish roof rails.

All models in the SsangYong range are covered by a best-in-class five year limitless mileage warranty.

Designed to be totally transparent and give customers complete peace of mind, 'limitless' means just that: not a maximum mileage condition that some brands impose in their small print.

All the major mechanical components are covered including wheel bearings, suspension joints and bushes, steering joints, shock absorbers and even the audio system.

Wearable components such as clutch discs and brake friction materials which could have their life reduced by poor driving are covered for one year or 12,500 miles, and the battery and paintwork for three years.

HAUGHEY

Margaret Catherine Mom

No words alone can express the sorrow in my heart, thank you Mom for being you, your love, your kindness, your wonderful sense of humour, the laughs we've had over the years, I will never forget you.

You always put others before yourself, you went without to give us when we were young, no one could have asked for a more loving Mother.

My heart breaks to not see you as we never had a day apart, the only comfort is that I know that you are now with Dad.

Until we meet again Mama, God keep her safe.

Love always your devoted Daughter Anita and Son-in-law Robbie.

Craig Parnham in action for Cannock

Club champions go for gold in Olympics role

THIS year marks the 20th anniversary since the Cannock Men's Hockey team won their first national championship. This success, in 1995/96, was the first of many in what was a dominant period for the side.

Since the league's inception in 1988/89, Cannock have won the National League seven times, with all seven titles coming in a 10-year period, starting with that 1996 triumph. During the same period, Cannock also won three national cups and lifted the double in both 1998 and 2005.

Cannock's success was highlighted by the personal achievements of a number of the players. From 1998-2004 Cannock were proudly represented by a number of players at Olympic Games. Craig Parnham competed at both Sydney 2000 and Athens 2004, Jimi Lewis was also at Sydney and Chris Mayer competed four years previously in Atlanta.

Treasured

After such successful careers at Cannock, and at national level, all three have taken the opportunity to be involved in coaching.

Parnham is the current USA women's head coach, Lewis, a former netminder, is the current goalkeeper coach for the German national team, while Mayer currently coaches at Solihull School, having previously coached for England, and Leicester Ladies.

All three hold treasured memories of their time at Cannock, most notably their play-off success against Reading in 1999, in which all three played. The game went to penalties after Cannock fought back from 3-1 down to draw. Lewis earned hero status, saving three of the six flicks he faced.

Mayer saw it as the ultimate achievement. "It was the first year that play-offs had been done, we had won the league at a canter but you could only call yourselves champions if you won the final. We did."

It wasn't until the late-1980s that Cannock began to be recognised as an elite club. The biggest step was qualifying for the National League in 1988, meaning the club could compete and attract some of the sport's biggest names.

What followed was a dominant 10 years and Cannock's most successful period to date.

The 90s saw Cannock recognised as an elite coaching and training club, which in turn boosted their status, though Lewis admits he found it tough to leave Havant, where he had previously spent his entire career.

"I'd moved up through the youth teams into the first team. We got relegated in the 1996/97 season and to continue competing for a spot in the men's senior national team I decided I needed to be playing for a Premier League team," he said.

"I knew a lot of Cannock players through the national team set up and I liked the working man's attitude of the club."

Mayer, meanwhile, saw it as an opportunity to follow in his family's footsteps. Having watched his elders play before him for a number of years, he wanted to continue the family legacy.

He said: "My father was a player at the club and both my brother and I used to go and watch him play. Once old enough I started to play for the club.

"My first game was for the sixth team when I was 11. I played left wing. We lost 10-0! My grandfather, uncle and brother all played at Cannock too," he added.

Parnham's decision was based simply on Cannock's status as the best in the country.

With the Rio Olympics now under way, both Lewis and Parnham, who will be coaching their respective nations at the Games against Team GB, coached by former Cannock team-mate Bobby Crutchley who has been involved with the national side since 2005.

During his playing career Crutchley was lucky enough to played worldwide for both club and country. At club level, he played in Australia and Italy as well as at a number of clubs in England and won numerous titles at both Cannock and Hounslow.

Crutchley was top scorer in all three countries and earned the right to play at national level when he won bronze at the 1998 Commonwealth Games.

Experience

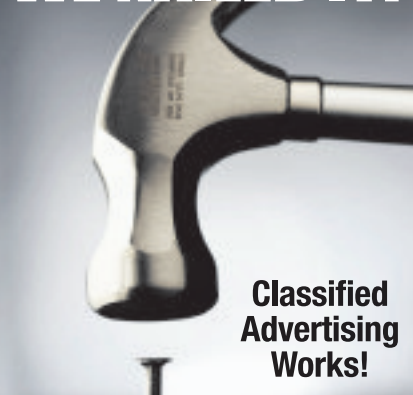

Crutchley also took the opportunity to coach part-time, gaining valuable experience with regard to his current position as England first-team coach.

He said: "I had done a lot of coaching while still playing, so had a significant amount of experience when I finished playing. I then got really lucky getting the job at the University of Bath, where a number of other sports were based, so I got the opportunity to learn from a lot of highly successful coaches."

"During this time I started to work with the England junior teams and gradually got more opportunities."

Crutchley is hoping to lead England to their first gold medal since 1988. Lewis will be seeking a back-to-back gold medal with the German national team, while Parnham will strive for the USA women's first ever Olympic gold.

Meacham is on course for national final

MORE than 80 amateur golfers went a fair way to demonstrate their putting prowess at the regional final of a nationwide golfing competition.

Brandon Wood Golf Course & Club near Coventry hosted one of the regional rounds of the UK Public Course Championship (UKPCC) – one of the UK's most popular amateur golf tournaments.

As many as 3,000 players enter the tournament nationally each year across 15 different club locations and the Warwickshire club was chosen as the venue for this year's Midlands final.

Players were competing in the 18-hole Stableford tournament for a chance to win one of 11 places in the national final at St Andrews links on October 2. And Great Wyrley golfer Steve Meacham earned his place in the line-up.

Meacham, who has competed in around 10 tournaments this year, said he was delighted to have made it through to the final.

"This is the second time I've competed in the UK Public Course Championship, after I first made it through to the finals of the tournament back in 2013," he said.

"It feels great to be making a return to St Andrews, I'll certainly be more confident now that I'm familiar with the course and the contour of its slopes."

Meanwhile Penkridge golfer Olivia Raybould moved one step closer to the World Long Drive Championship.

She won through to the final of the American Golf Long Drive Championship – the official UK qualifying event for the World Championship.

Along with the regional title, she received a Garmin S20 Approach GPS watch from the Championship sponsor along with entry to the blue riband final at High Legh Park Cheshire on August 19.

Depleted Hayes are beaten in FA Cup by league favourites

Heath Hayes 0 Bromsgrove 3
FORMER golden boot winner David Waple was in for his first start in three years, but Hayes were missing around six first team regulars in this FA Cup tie.

Those that turned out did Hayes proud against a big spending Bromsgrove side who are favourites for the title.

Keeper Mark Wiggins was equal to everything Bromsgrove could throw at him until he was beaten by a thunderous free kick from Nathan Walker.

A farcical killer blow came on 57 minutes. Connor Conway's header from a Chris Lloyd corner was going wide but hit skipper Craig Jones on the side of the head and went in. There was no fluke about the third a minute later when left back Jack Wilson hit a screamer from 25 yards to seal victory for his side.

Hednesford Town enjoyed a 2-0 win over Rushden & Diamonds, thanks to two second half goals from Tristian Dunkley. Sean Geddes has agreed a deal with the Pitmen, while Jazz Luckie has departed.

Chasetown shared the spoils, 1-1, in a friendly with Sutton Coldfield.

Brothers impress in European event

BROTHERS Lewis and Ben Askey of Erasmus Darwin Academy made their annual pilgrimage to Assen, Holland, for the biggest youth cycling event in the calendar.

With more than 800 riders and national champions from 17 different countries the 52nd European Junior Six day cycling tour was guaranteed to be a spectacular event.

On the first day all riders started with a 1.3km prologue. Ben, aged 12, the younger of the brothers, was in Category 5 against the male 12-year-olds and 13-year-old females. He clocked a time of 2.01.40 resulting in a 13th position for the first day, while Lewis Askey gained a time of 1.44.13 claiming second place losing by 0.15 of a second to Dutch national champion Edo Mass.

Day two was a tight criterium course and both races were fast and furious. Ben was in the lead pack and was disappointed with his sixth place. Lewis took third spot in the bunch sprint.

The third day was the 'Classic' course and the hardest, longest and most challenging of the six day series. After only 5k of Lewis's 87.7km race the event was neutralised because of a crash resulting in ambulances required. Once the race got started again Lewis did not quite have the legs for the sprint finish but still finished third.

Meanwhile, Ben claimed his first stage win of the series. Ben's form continued to take two further stage wins but due to losing time on the time trial he narrowly missed out of an overall medal and had to settle for a final eighth place.

On the final day Lewis only needed to ensure he gained the first sprint to claim the white jersey. Edo tried to challenge but Lewis was not having it and claimed the maximum points.

On the final lap Lewis also decided to make an attack and claimed tenth overall.

Benton hits ton in easy cricket win

MATT Cottrell, Adam Benton and Will Fleet were the stars as third-placed Cannock breezed past Swindon in the Staffs Clubs League, maintaining their push for the Premier Division title.

Cottrell got four wickets, Connor Shingler three and Dan Wood two as Swindon finished 196-9 after the full 50 overs.

Only Benton (130) and Fleet (51) were needed in reply and Cannock are now just three points behind Beacon.

Milford Hall, however are now 23 points clear at the top following a comprehensive home win against Wednesbury, while Beacon slipped up against Penn.

Batting first, the visitors found it hard to handle Milford bowler Chris Dean, who accounted for three of the top four, with Ejaz Nawaz (4-32) and Qamar Abbas (3-18) also proving efficient with the ball.

Wednesbury were eventually dismissed for 183 and in reply, Milford's youngsters performed well with Aaron Afford and Luke Ponder striking up an unbroken partnership of 110 to seal an eight-wicket win.

First at the crease, Beacon's openers were out cheaply and, despite good efforts from Zachary Smith (42) and Thomas Bingham (52), were all out for 212. Penn, who had Vinny Banks (85) and Amun Samra (92) in fine form, surpassed the target with nine overs to spare. Hammerwich made it back-to-back victories with success against rock-bottom Bloxwich on home soil.

Also flirting with relegation are Wallsall YPF, who are third-bottom and 14 points clear of the drop zone after a loss to Pelsall.

This weekend, Milford Hall go to Bloxwich. Beacon face Pelsall and Cannock host Penn.

Gymnasts miss out on Rio team bronze

KRISTIAN Thomas and his GB teammates missed out on a team gymnastics medal at the Rio Olympics.

Wolverhampton-born Thomas, who now lives in Cannock, saw his team holding on to third place for most of the competition, before being nudged into fourth. Louis Smith slipped off the pommel horse, scoring 14.766 and effectively ending their slim chances of nudging back in to the medals.

Even a strong finale from world champion Max Whitlock, scoring 15.991, could not rectify the situation as the Britons – also including Brinn Bevan and Nile Wilson – were forced to settle for fourth.

THE feel-good factor continues to sweep through Rugeley Cricket Club as the business end of the season approaches.

On and off the field, Rugeley are enjoying a renaissance with their first team on the brink of promotion to the top flight of the Staffs Clubs Championship and a hard-working, dedicated committee ensuring everything runs smoothly off the pitch.

The Chaseley Road club are on the up and chairman Peter Mould is delighted with the progress.

Mould has been associated with the club for 35 years as player, committee member and now in his role at the top of the order of command.

"The club is progressing," he said. "We could do with a bit more finance but I suppose that's the same for most clubs. Obviously it's all voluntary work, but we have quite a few people who dip in and help. It's a big family club and we are all pretty happy at the moment."

Fencing

"I have seen a few changes over the years. About 15 years ago the club was at a real low, but we have moved on quite a bit now."

"We were having a problem four or five years ago with youths hanging around at night time and using the ground as a dumping ground, really."

"But we have got all the ground fenced off and secure now. The fencing cost between £3,000 and £4,000 but it was the best money we have ever spent."

"We have got caravan clubs using it in the winter and forest schools in the school holidays. Looking at things from where we were four years ago we are in a lot better position."

The club run three teams on a Saturday and things are looking up out in the middle with the senior side leading the way.

Scott Gretton is the man overseeing the unbeaten first team's push for glory and he epitomises the family vibe than runs through the club.

"I have played here ever since I could pick up a cricket bat," said Gretton. "I have a brother,

Chris, who is seven years older than me and we lived 200 yards away from the ground.

"It's where I have grown up. I started in the under-13s at 10, and then moved onto the under-15s, the third team and through to the firsts."

An influx of players in the winter helped boost playing strength and added further to the family feel.

"We had an influx of players from C&R Hawks and they have really fitted in and are enjoying it," said Gretton.

"We enjoy the family feel to the club. That's what it's all about. I have made some great friends here, it becomes like a big family."

Success on the pitch has also boosted spirits and now Gretton is looking to get over the line.

For the future, the club are keen to keep expanding their youth section and are pro-active in their attempts to tempt youngsters.

The facilities at Chaseley Road are also being constantly improved with the clubhouse not short on seating thanks to a donation from HSBC.

"We have done a bit of refurbishment inside in recent years with a disabled toilet and a room for the umpires being created."

"We managed to get some sponsorship and got some roll on roll off covers which have been an absolute godsend."
